WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, March 19, 1894.

From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Republican Senators who have heretofore conceded the probability of the ultimate success of the democrats in passing some sort of tariff bill now consider that they have at least an even chance to defeat the bill. Although the committee has decided that the bill shall be reported to the Senate this week and taken up for consideration April 2—by the way that date represents a substantial victory for the republicans of the committee—it is known that not a single one of the ten democratic Senators who style themselves "conservatives," and are styled "kickers" by the other democrats, has promised to support the bill, notwithstanding the numerous concessions made to them by the democrats of the committee, and some of them will, it is believed, vote against the entire bill, unless they can get it amended to suit their demands. Instead of the changes made in the bill by the democrats of the Senate committee—most of them against their will—lessening the democratic opposition to the bill they have largely increased it. The free traders have been offended and not a single "kicker" has been propitiated.

Many shrewd observers believe that upon the disposition which Mr. Cleveland makes of the Bland bill for the coinage of the seignorage depends the very existence of the democratic party as at present constituted. At least three members of the cabinet—Gresham, Smith and Herbert—are so certain that the veto of the bill would be followed by an open split of the democratic party that they are doing their best to persuade Mr. Cleveland to sign the bill, as a peace offering to the silver democrats in the south and west who are disgruntled because of the numerous snubs they have received at the hands of the administration. Representative Strauss, of New York, a personal friend of Mr Cleveland, is also working on the same line, although himself opposed to the bill. Mr. Cleveland has given no sign of what his intentions regarding the measure are. A delegation of New York bankers are here to prevent Mr. Cleveland yielding to the party pressure that is being brought to bear upon him to allow the bill to become a law. These New Yorkers have demanded of Mr. Cleveland that he veto the bill, in accordance with the pledges made by Secretary Carlisle when he asked them to save the administration bond issue from the flat failure which it would have been had the bankers not subscribed to them. On the other hand, more than two-thirds of the democrats in Congress voted for this bill and they are demanding that the bill be signed, or at least allowed to become a law without the President's signature, and threatening to publicly repudiate the administration should the bill be vetoed.

In addition to being vicious the democratic tariff bill is very clumsily drawn. Since its revision by the democrats of the Senate Finance committee the republicans of that committee, and the public, have had an opportunity to study the bill. A republican Senator pointed out a paragraph which would, had it been allowed to remain in the bill have ever become a law, resulted in tangling up the internal revenue system to an extent that would have cost the government many millions of dollars. It would in short, have prevented the collection of a dollar of internal revenue, except upon such articles as are specifically mentioned in the present bill. This error was, of course, corrected.

No man serving his first term in Congress was ever before given the honor of being put at the head of the republican Congressional campaign committee, but it has just been done for Representative Babcock of Wisconsin, who has been selected to be acting chairman of the committee, while Judge Caulwell is making his canvas for the mayoralty of Cincinnati, and as Judge Caulwell is likely to be elected Mr. Babcock is almost certain to become permanent chairman of the committee. This selection was not made haphazard, but because Mr. Babcock's colleagues recognized his peculiar fitness to direct the work of the committee, and were only too glad to learn that he was willing to undertake it.

The investigation of the contract for printing the Patent Office Gazette, which was for a time suspended because of the members of the Senate committee on Printing having been otherwise engaged, has been resumed. If Josiah Quincy, ex-Assistant Secretary of State, who is accused of having a pecuniary interest in this contract, is not guilty he is a philanthrophist of the first quarter, as he has given freely of his time, money and influence to aid the favored contractors. There has been a looseness about the whole business that would in any properly conducted establishment result in some dismissals. For instance, the contractors agreed to do the work for one year from July 4, 1893 for $45,000, yet with three and one half months remaining of the year they have drawn $39,000, leaving only $6,000 to pay for that time. Unless the bond filed by these contractors is better than anything else they have had anything to do with there will be a considerable loss to the government.

MOVING AND MOVING DAY.

The first day of April is close at hand and the annual flitting has begun. Wagons loaded with furniture may be seen on every hand. This spring the flitting is necessary in most cases, something which cannot ordinarily be said of it. One may affirm that many a family has been kept poor by useless moving. The idea of it is usually that something better can be had in some other place for the same money, and a falser idea people seldom take up. They are no more satisfied with the new place at the end of the year than they were with the old, and so it is move again, which means loss of time, of patience and often of religion, to say nothing of the outlay for new carpets and for furniture smashed in the moving. A score of things are pointed to as indicating the restlessness of the American, but none indicates it better than this flight to new homes which have no advantage over the old. There are men in this city who have spent enough in this way since they began their married life to buy them a home of their own. In view of this fact there seems to have been a sort of grim humor in making All Fools Day the day for moving. Almost every time almost every one of these men declares and some of them swear as they wrestle with the stove pipe, or bruise their fingers with the tack hammer, or wrench their backs putting up the bedstead, that they will not move again until ther have to, but as certainly as All Fools Day comes around the fate of flitting befalls them. It would seem that only fate could compel them to go contrary to their sore experience. Nobody more willingly than they admits that moving day is appropriately All Fools Day.

FATHER'S TERRIBLE DISCOVERY.

London, March 19.—The Standard's Buda Pesth correspondent says: "The Nemzet prints the following: 'Felix Steiner divorced his wife in 1873. They had only one child, a 1 year old daughter. Her name was changed and she went to New York, where she found a situation in a Hungarian family. She was often sent to a nearby shop, which was owned by Steiner, whom she did not know. Eventually, after chatting and courting, they were married happily and had one child.

They desired to return to Hungary and search for their relations. They returned to Miskoles. Steiner made inquiries and was astonished by the discovery that his second wife was his own daughter. He wrote that his wife should return to New York with child. Steiner has not been heard af since and it is believe that he has committed suicide. His wife is en route to America, and does not know the facts. She believes her husband has been detained on business.

THE STORM AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, March 20.—Arriving passengers on the morning trains and the wires penetrating the country within a radius of fifty miles brought no news of loss of life or material destruction of property by last night's wind storm. The storm, which in this city amounted to a gale, struck the Pacific and Texas elevator at West Wago, just opposite the Exposition grounds, and played havoc with it. The loss will reach $20,000 and the elevator will be rendered useless for a month or more. There was slight damage done along the river front by the storm.

A SUIT FAILS.

London, March 19.—When the adjourned hearing of the suit of Mrs. Holland against Sir Francis Cook, the husband of Tennie Claflin, was resumed today before Justice Hawkins in the queen's bench division of the high court of justice, Mr. Willis, counsel for the plaintiff, announced that he must withdraw from the case, and accordingly judgment was entered with costs for the defendant. Mrs. Holland sued for £12,000 damages, claiming breach of promise made twenty five years ago and that she had been induced to submit to a criminal operation.

SMALL-POX SCARE.

Lewisburg, Pa., March 19.—On Saturday John Rarick returned from Danville and was taken sick, showing symptoms of small-pox. Doctors were called in consultation and the case was pronounced small pox of the most violent type. There is much excitement in the town over the case. The authorities have quarantined Rarick's house. There are eleven children in the family.

FOUND.—On the porch of REPUBLICAN office, an umbrella with a white metal handle. Owner can obtain same by calling at this office.

THE DANGER TO HAWAII.

Many well-meaning but somewhat ignorant people doubtless imagine that foreign interference in the Hawaiian Islands can only take the form of the appearance of a man-of-war, the landing of marines and overt acts against which the United States could protest and use vigorous measures.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. If the Canadian Pacific completes what is apparently the present purpose of its managers to secure the use and control of Honolulu as a coaling station for a line from Victoria across to Australia and New Zealand, it will not be done by a British man-of-war. It will be easier and more effective to smuggle in 200 or 300 men from Victoria under various pretexts, as appears already to have been done, to organize them in some fashion, take advantage of the first division among the supporters of the Provisional Government, and engage in some movement to overthrow it and set up the ex-Queen again.

This would accomplish all that open annexation or a protectorate could do. The new Government would be a mere puppet and some Anglo-Canadian agent would really govern the islands. The only way to prevent steps of this character is to maintain close relation with the island, and this in its turn can only be done by preserving the relations already established by the reciprocity treaty of 1875. The repeal of that treaty, as proposed by the Wilson tariff bill, would cut the commercial links which unite the islands to the United States and leave the way open for intrigue or violence, disguised through the importation of a small force as immigrants to overthrow the supremacy which the United States has enjoyed in the Hawaiian Islands for forty years, and which is vital to the safety of the Pacific and the future extension of our trade on the Pacific.

In the March number of Babyhood Dr J. H. Rhein has an article on what is usually called a "cold in the head," a slight trouble in itself yet one which, as he shows, may easily become in children a mischief-making disease. Another medical article of interest to mothers is one by Dr. C. W. Smith, on some of the early symptoms of chronic diseases in children. Other subjects discussed are the baby's carriage and all its belongings, the art of interesting the little ones, the way of making obedience easy, etc. The medical editor answers many questions raised by anxious mothers, and the departments of "Baby's Wardrobe," "Nursery Helps and Novelties," etc furnish the usual number of practical hints. Babyhood has just entered upon its tenth year, and sustains its reputation as an indispensable mother's nursery guide. More than 100 physicians are among its contributors. $1 per year. Sample copies free. Babyhood Publishing Co., 5 Beekman Street, New York.

OUR EASTER EDITION.

This week THE REPUBLICAN goes to its many readers gaudily bedecked in "Easter Lillies," a handsome colored cover, issued in honor of the day we all celebrate with joy and thanks. We trust our efforts to give REPUBLICAN subscribers something both unique, attractive and entertaining will be fully appreciated. On these pages can be found a choice story entitled "An Easter Romance;" several novelettes, poetry, selected miscellaneous and humorous matter and everything designed to entertain and please the entire household. The handsome illustrations included in its makeup are well worth the price of the paper. If you are not already a subscriber of the REPUBLICAN you should send your name in at once and thus be sure of getting all future holiday issues that may be sent out.

Miss Anna L. Bicknell, an American lady, who was instructor of the children of one of the ladies of the Imperial household, contributes an article to the March Century on "The Tuileries under the Second Empire." Miss Bicknell was an inmate of the palace at the time of the downfall of the Emperor. She describes the Tuileries as a most uncomfortable habitation, with no conveniences of modern life, its sanitary arrangements and drainage very bad, while in parts of the palace the air was absolutely pestilential. A careful watch was kept on the inmates, and they were subjected to military discipline. No parcels could be removed without authorization, and any one who was out after midnight was reported the next morning.

—Today, after a six years' residence in Bellefonte, Mr. John A. Rupp, ex-register, with his family took their departure for their old home at Oak Hall. It was with feelings of regret that their many friends bid them adieu. During the six years Mr. Rupp served as a county official he succeeded, by his engaging manner, his correct and careful attention to all business and in his genial, wholesouled way, in making hosts of friends. As a citizen and neighbor he always sized up to the fullest standard of measurement and to say that he will be greatly missed by all his old-time associates, is putting it as mildly as possible. It is to be hoped that after a brief residence at Oak Hall Mr. Rupp may again take it into his head to return to Bellefonte to reside permanently.

THE THIEF OF TIME.

The tendency to put off anything that should be done at once, has grown to an alarming extent among the people of this country; not merely with children but with grown up persons. They never for a moment think that it is a costly habit. If hay needs putting in today they say to-morrow will do. In the meantime a heavy rainstorm comes up and the hay is lost, much to the sorrow of the owner, who makes himself fair promises that he will pay closer attention to such matters hereafter. Does he do it? No. The habit of procrastination has such a strong hold upon him that he cannot (or rather does not) shake it off, and he soon finds himself in a similar dilemma, with probably a greater loss, and still be putting off what should have been immediately done. A boy is told to nail a plank on the fence for fear hogs or cows will destroy it. The plank has been off the fence perhaps, for two days, and the boy thinks that no stock has entered during that period, they will not for just half a day, and he shoulders his fishing rod, and proceeds leisurely to the brook or pond where he can sit and lure minnows and perch from their hiding places. He is utterly oblivious of the fact that the garden is at this moment full of pigs and cows, ruthlessly rooting the potatoes and pulling down corn, etc. When he gets home he sees the havoc wrought, and wishes he had nailed on the board. He proceeds to belabor the cows and pigs, taking vengance on them for what he had done or rather left undone. Three nails, a small board and five minutes time, would have saved the garden. The boy did not think they would go in that day, as they had not before and hence he shirked and put off his duty.

We do not know what is going to happen, and everything should be in order to meet any calamity. Put off until to-morrow never mends the fence, or builds the barn or gathers the crop. Doing now is what counts. Death waits not and will not be put off, therefore we should learn a lesson and do at once whatever must be done.—Ex.

The March SOCIAL ECONOMIST treats of three advances toward sound economics, viz, Thomas B. Reed's great argument in Congress that national prosperity must be founded on the consuming power or living standard of the wage class; the British Government's adoption of the eight-hour law at an advanced rate of wages in its war shops, and Professor Adams' recognition of the fact that the highest consuming power of the masses could alone justify the leisure of the classes. The distribution of wealth, productive and consumable, is more exhaustively discussed than has ever been done by Mallock, and in a manner which socialists should study. The tendency of a financial crisis to send people from the towns to the land is treated in an interesting article on "From Desert Herding to Intensive Farming." The SOCIAL ECONOMIST is the chief of economic magazines.

KILL THE WILSON BILL.

The hard times of the past year will be greatly increased by the passage of the infamous Wilson Bill. Every possible effort should be made to defeat the measure—to delay it in any event. We can better afford a few months of uncertainty than four years of general adversity, suffering and distress. Under the most favorable circumstances, the Wilson Bill, if it become a law, cannot be changed until the summer of 1897. We earnestly recommend that you will urge United States Senators, irrespective of party, to defeat or by every parliamentary delay the passage of this Measure.

On November 6th, the people will have an opportunity to speak—their verdict must be awaited.

ARBOR DAY PROCLAMATION.

HARRISBURG, March 20.—Governor Pattison to-night issued the usual arbor day proclamation designating Friday, April 13, and Friday, April 27, as the days to be observed in the planting of trees and shrubbery. The selection of either date is left to the discretion of the people in the various sections of the commonwealth, each locality observing that which is deemed to be most favorable on account of climatic conditions. Governor Pattison calls upon the people to lay a side for a season the habitual activities of the day and devote sufficient time to tree planting. Attention is also called to the importance of forestry and the protection of trees, and the great work now being done by the state forestry commission.

SPRING TOURS TO FLORIDA VIA PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

On March 13th and 27th the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run the last two personally-conducted tours to Florida. Special trains in charge of experienced tourist agent and chaperon will leave New York 9.30, Trenton 11.08 A. M., Philadelphia 12.10, Wilmington 12.50, and Baltimore 2.36 P. M. These trains will be composed of Pullman sleeping and dining cars fitted with modern appointments and conveniences of the most sumptous type.

$50 from New York, $48 from Philadelphia and Baltimore, and proportionately low rates from other points on the system, will cover all expenses en route-transportation, Pullman accommodation, and meals. On the last tour the ticket covers Pullman facilities south-bound only, the limit, however, being May 31st, thus allowing a much longer visit.

A stay of two weeks ni the glorious health inspiring peninsula may be enjoyed on the first and that time may well be spent in following out the numberless side trips available from Jacksonville. These tours are especially delightful during the present season when the beauties of this magnificent State are at their best, and a vacation spent there should necessarily result in great benefit to those participating.

WHAT MAKES A BOY POPULAR.

What makes a boy popular? Manliness, says Hezekiah Butterworth in the Ladies Home Journal. During the war schools and colleges followed popular boys whose hearts could be trusted. The boy who is careful of his sister is a knight. The boy who will never violate his word, and who will pledge his honor to his heart and change not, will have the confidence of his fellows. The boy who defends the weak will one day become a hero among the strong. The boy who will never hurt the feelings of any one will one day find himself in the atmosphere of universal sympathy. "I know not," once said the great Governor Andrew, "what record of sin may await me in another world; but this I do know, I never despised a man because he was poor, because he was ignorant, or because he was black."

Shall I tell you how to become a popular boy? I will. Be too manly and generous and unselfish to seek to be popular; be the soul of honor, and love others better than yourself, and people will give you their hearts and delight to make you happy. That is what makes a boy popular.

STILL SEARCHING FOR BODIES.

Wilkesbarre, March 20.—There appears to be a gloomy outlook at the Gaylord mine in Plymouth today, and the situation remains unchanged for the past four days. From what can be learned from old miners at a late hour to-night the squeezing of pillars and the rushing down of debris continues to a great extent, and owing to this, very little headway is being made by the rescuers. Some of the workers claim that they are close to some of the bodies, while others are of the opinion that it will be many days before any more are found. The coroner has empannelled a jury today and as soon as the last body is brought up an investigation is to be made.

LOUIS ROSSUTH DEAD.

TURIN, March 20.—Louis Kossuth, the Hungarian Patriot, died at 11 o'clock to-night.

His son, sister, and other relatives were present when he died. He passed away, holding the hand of the Hungarian Deputy Karoly The agony of his last moments was extremely harrowing.

The body of Kossuth will be interred in Genoa near that of his daughter. Edmond DeAmicis, the Italian author, will deliver a funeral oration in the name of Italy. The obsequies will be imposing and will be attended by a great gathering of Hungarians.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

James S. Reish and Sadie Heckman, of Centre Hall.

Robert G. McClellan, of Potter township, and Ida E. Tressler, of Harris township.

C. H. Weston, of Tyrone, and Annie M. Meese, of Loveville.

L. R. Lingle, of Milesburg, and Jennie B. Boal, of Centre Hall.

Howard H. Goss, of Spring township, and Minnie M. Bottorf, of Ferguson township.

THE OPPOSITION to a County Controller began promptly in Schuylkill, as it was expected would be the case, for of all sections of the State where the politicians do not believe in such an official Schuylkill is the first. It has been immemorial custom for the County Auditors to examine the bills, and they have done this perfunctory thing year after year, long after the Commissioners and Poor Directors have expended the money, and abuses and discrepancies have figured in the accounts for which the courts have found a remedy in but few instances. The new law provides an audit on sight, and the Controller, as the auditor, has a supervisory and discretionary power over the Commissioners that stops payment of bills and puts an end to errors. Of course the politicians don't like the law, and their present administration for the State Constitution as an instrument of antagonism must be taken with some allowance.

A NEW SUBSTANCE FOR FUEL.

Messrs. Philip, Joseph, John and Mike Kimmel, George Harpham, John Kemmerling and George Moser constitute a company which has the exclusive right to sell a new substance for fuel. It has been analyzed by Dr. Dudley, who pronounced it natural coke. A five foot vein of the new material was discovered about a year ago at South Fork, but no attempt had ever been made to burn it, the miners thinking it was slate. Recently it caught the eye of Altoona coal operators. They have been experimenting with it and the result of the experiments show that it possesses the lasting qualities of hard coal, will burn where anthracite can be burned, and also bituminous, and is entirely free from all gasses and soot.

A car load of the natural coke will be received in a day or so, which will be sold as a sample.

The South Fork vein is the second vein of this material that has ever been discovered. A number of years ago a vein of this fuel a foot thick was found in Virginia, but it was never put on the market. The mine operated by the Altoonians cannot be exhausted in forty years, and if the product proves a success, and there is every reason to believe it will, they have struck a bananza, so to speak.

NOT SATISFIED.

The appointment of Ministers in the Methodist conference is somewhat like the running of a political machine, if one can judge from the numerous expressions of dissatisfaction heard on all sides over the taking of Rev. B. B. Hamlin off the Altoona district as presiding elder and the substitution of Dr. Monroe in his place. Not but that Dr. Monroe is a good man and a hard worker, but then he evidently was not the man desired, as thirty-eight out of a total of [illegible] ministers in the district had signed a petition requesting Dr. Hamlin's continuance as presiding elder. And in addition the petition was signed by a large number of laymen and other church members, but it availeth nothing. He was taken off and transferred to Harrisburg. Aside from this there was a general shaking up all around, but as the Bishop has the main say the brethren can do nought but submit.

JAMES J. FRONHEISER DEAD.

Johnstown, March 18.—A cablegram received in this city this morning from Darmstadt, Germany, announced the death in that place of Mr. James J. Fronheiser, one of the most prominent steel manufacturers in Pennsylvania. No particulars were given. Mr. Fronheiser left his home in this city in good health for Europe about six weeks ago in the interest of the Cambria Iron company, with which he had been closely identified for many years. The first speegle ever manufactured by the Cambria Iron company was made by Mr. Fronheiser, who was a graduate of the Philadelphia college of pharmacy. For several years he was the general superintendent of the Cambria Iron company and much in connection with its marked success was due to his direction. Since 1890 the had charge of the laboratory.

The deceased was born in Johnstown Feb. 14, 1849. His wife and one child were drowned in the great Johnstown flood. Several children, however, together with brothers and sisters, are living in this city.

—It is reported on good authority that a corps of civil engineers is at present at work surveying in the neighborhood of Beaver Dam, in White township, this county, about eight miles from Patton. These men are believed to be in the employ of the Langdon company and it appears to be well understood that the line on which they are working is projected to run from Philipsburg, Centre county, and by the way of Ebensburg on down to Johnstown.—Cambria Herald.

HAS A GOOD REPUTATION.

No farce comedy has gained a better reputation than "The Dazzler" during its three years existence. It is acknowledged by everybody to be one of the brightest and cleverest things of the kind ever offered to the public. The comedians are decidedly clever, the ladies are pretty of face and form and artists every one, and the music is the very best of the new and popular styles. The company will be seen at the opera house on Thursday March 22.

The Easter baskets at B. C. Achenbach's are certainly quid pro quo m20-4t.

FIRST DAY OF CONFERENCE.

When the Roll Was Called 200 Responded to Their Names.

HARRISBURG, Pa,, March 14.—The first day's session of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist Episcopal church closed to-night with the interesting anniversary of the Epworth league. There was a large audience which more than taxed the capacity of the Fifth Street church, where the conference is holding its sessions. Rev. Dr. W. N. Brodbeck, of Brooklin, Mass., was the principal speaker this evening, his subject being "Why Am I a Methodist?" a theme which gave the distinguished pulpit orator wide scope for his ability as a speaker. The growth of the Epworth league in the conference district during the year has been several thousand.

The regular business session opened this morning at 8.30 with a half hour's song service, led by the Silver Lake quartette. At the close of this service Bishop John F. Hurst, D. D., L. L. D., conducted a brief devotional service, after which the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered to 500 persons.

The conference roll being called, 200 responded to their names.

Rev. D. S. Monroe was for the twenty-sixth time elected secretary and chose Revs. T. S. Wilcox, W. A. Carver and J. F. Anderson as assistants. Bishop Hurst addressed the conference. He presided over the body eleven years ago and began his ministry within the bounds of this conference.

MOST PROSPEROUS YEAR IN METHODISM.

This has been the most prosperous year in Methodism, both at home and abroad. In one of the four conferences in India during the past year, he said, there had been 18,000 conversions, and equal progress in the home field.

Rev. O. G. Heck was nominated for statistical secretary; Rev. J. B. Stern, J. E. Weeks, J. Morgan and N. E. Cleaver as assistants; Rev. M. P. Crosthwaite as treasurer, and Revs. J. Horning, W. Brill and O. Hicks as assistants. Rev. Homer Eaton, of the book concern at New York, was introduced and presented a check for $1,600. The concern has done a business of $50,000,000 during the past fifty years and has presented $2,000,000 to the annua conference.

Rev. B. B. Hamlin, D. D., presiding elder of the Altoona district, read his report. Two pastors, Revs. L. F. Smith and J. W. Ely, have died. There have been nearly 3,000 conversions and over 2,000 accessions. Six new churches have been built at a total cost of $12,000. Four new churches are now in process of construction. The characters of the preachers of this district were reported, and they [illegible] satisfactory reports.

[illegible] W. Evans, presiding elder of the [illegible]burg district, read his report. One hundred and forty six members have died, but the lives of all the pastors have been spared. Twenty four thousand dollars have been spent in church building and for church repairs. Collections are $300 in advance, save the missionary, which is $750 short. Total number of conversions, about 2,000, with about 1,000 probationers, one new Sunday school organized, 55 Epworth league chapters with membership of 4,100, a gain of 400 over last year. A small collection for the American university should be lifted and a city church extension and Evangelization society organized in Harrisburg. This society has purchased three lots at Riverton, where it expects to erect a church.

SUFFERED FROM FINANCIAL DEPRESSION.

Rev. J. Max Lantz, presiding elder of the Juniata district, read his report. The district has suffered greatly from the prevailing financial depression. Several thousand dollars have been raised for church repairs and church building. There have been 3,169 conversions and 2,504 accessions and there are now 4,402 Epworth leagues.

Rev. J. K. Foster, presiding elder of the Williamsport district, read his report. Thirty churches had been built or repaired with debt paid, aggregate $40,000, and six parsonages were built or repaired. There have been 2,500 conversions and the missionary collection is $960 in advance. Thirty eight out of the forty-nine charges show an increase.

The report of the committee on veteran ministers' relief will be considered to-morrow. It recommends the incorporation of a board of trustees of four ministers and three laymen, with headquarters in Harrisburg, trustees to be appointed annually, this board to receive the funds contributed for benevolent purposes and invest the same for the benefit of the conference. It is further recommended that each congregation shall observe what is known as "Veterans' Sunday," when contributions shall be made to this fund.

AN INCOME TAX.

The committee recommends that all members of the conference receiving a salary of $600 or more shall be required to pay to the board of stewards a sum equal to 1 per cent, of his receipts (not including house rent) and that any person receiving less than $600 annually shall be required to pay $1 a year to this fund that the claim of each supernumerary or superannuated preacher or widow or children under 15 years of age of deceased ministers, unless voluntarily relinquished, be upon the basis of the years of effective service; that the sustentation fund be annulled and the claims of effective men be considered by boards of stewards.

A resolution was presented and laid over suggesting to the general conference of 1896 the adoption of some plan for the celebration of the centennial of the chartered fund, which shall so present its benevolent object to the church that by concerted contribution a large addition may be made to its invested fund.

This afternoon the anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Mission society was held. The wife of Rev. Dr. McK. Reiley, of Baltimore, gave a very interesting Bible reading on "Our Communion."

Miss Rose Bowen, M. D. for several years a missionary in Africa, delivered an address on the work in that land confining her remarks mainly to the women of that continent.

Mrs. A. H. Eaton, president of the Baltimore branch, also delivered an interesting address.

GREAT WORK WAS DONE.

The conference Devoted Itself Strictly to Business Yesterday.

HARRISBURG, March 15.—The Central Pennsylvania conference devoted itself strictly to business to-day and accomplished a great deal. Rev. Dr. E. H. Yocum, presiding elder of the Danville district, read his report. He feelingly referred to the sudden death of his predecessor, Rev. John Donohue. He gave a detailed report of the several charges, showing vigorous and successful work during the year. Owing to the financial depression the collections are decreased. $24,000 have been raised for church building and repairs and several thousand dollars paid on old indebtedness. There have been 1,600 conversions.

At the close of the report it was announced that there have been 12,000 conversions in the conference this year, one for every forty two minutes, day and night, since the last conference closed, and 2,000 more than in any previous year in the history of the conference.

The transfer of Rev. D. H. Shields was announced to the Baltimore conference. He has been stationed at Martinsburg, W. Va., and the transfer of J. B. Bedford to the West Virginia conference was also announced.

ADDRESS OF MRS CLINTON D. FISK.

Mrs. Clinton D. Fisk was introduced and addressed the conference on home missionary work. She spoke feelingly of her deceased husband, General Fisk, and referred to Mrs. O. H. Tiffany having said that Dr. Tiffany was more indebted to the father of Governor Pattison than to any other person for his state.

C. W. Marshall, John A. Woodcock, W. E. Hock, J. Z. Lloyd, John Vrooman, B. P. King, J. W. Leckie, J. B. Aiken, J. C. Clarke, A. W. Gibson H. S. Mendenhall, H. F. Stevens, C. W. Burnley, L. W Rudisill, L. S. Crone, G. B. Ague, J. J. Pearce, G. W. Dunlap, M. P. Croswaite, James Hunter, S. P. Boon and W. H. Keith, were placed on the supernumerary list. Thomas Taneyhill, George Bergstresser, J. P. Bobb, John Stine, G. H. Day, Wm. H. Stevens, W. Schuber Thos. Greenly, R. E. Kelley J. Y. Rothrock, Thomas Mitchell, J. W. Olewine, D. B. McCloskey, M. L. Smith and I. H. Torrence were placed on the superannuated list.

Dr. E. J. Gray, president of Williamsport Dickinson seminary, read his report. In a revival every student in the building except one had been converted. The fund for the erection of an art building has increased from $2,000 to $6,000. Every department is full and prosperous. There are forty-two students preparing for the ministry.

CHANGE OF THE RESTRICTIVE RULES.

The proposed change of the restrictive rules was made a special order for to-morrow at 11 a. m.

The report of Dr. S. C. Swallow, superintendent of the book rooms in this city, showed $34,000 of sales for the year, exhibiting a net gain of nearly $700.

Rev. George E. Reed, D. D. president of Dickinson college, addressed the conference in the interests of that institution. It is now passing through its 111th year. There are 321 students, the largest number in its history. Enlarged recitation rooms and dormitories are needed. An effort is being made to raise a building fund of $100,000, and $35,000 of this has been received since June last. Gen. John Patton, of Curwensville, has given $10.000. Two lots of ground have been offered if a recitation hall costing $20,000, be placed upon them. Of the sum needed $6,000 has been received. The college believes in co-education and keeping up a high literary standard. He would much rather have the young fellows work the devil out of them on the athletic field than on the faculty, and spoke in favor of athletics.

Dr. J. W. Hamilton, of the Freedmen's Aid society, said: "I have just come from the south. This society represents more clearly than any other, disinterested benevolence of the church. The national government, when it freed the slaves, turned them into all the channels of trade without a cent or a foot of ground, while the Czar of the Russians, when he freed the serfs, gave each three acres. This society has been hit harder than any other in the church by the present depression. It is $200,000 in debt and has been compelled to cut the salaries of the teachers one quarter.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETING.

At the anniversary of the Woman's Home Missionary society this afternoon, Mrs. Dr. George E. Reed, president, made an address.

Mrs. Black, of this city, in the absence of Mrs. T. L. Tomkinson, read the secretary's report. There has never been anything but advance each year, in numbers of auxiliaries, number of members and cash received.

The treasurer's report was presented as follows: Altoona district, cash $169.51; Danville, cash $94 92, supplies $121; Harrisburg, cash $482 73, supplies $315 10; Juniata, cash $53 80; Williamsport, cash $339 71, supplies $341; total cash for the conference, $1,070.57; increase, $449; supplies, $774 34.

Mrs. Clinton D. Fisk, president of the General society, then delivered a most beautiful, logical and forcible speech. She stated that there are nearly 2,300 auxiliary societies in the United States.

Dr. Reed made a strong appeal and a generous collection was lifted for the society. The anniversary of the Freedmen's Aid was an interesting occasion to-night.

To-morrow afternoon, at 3.30 o'clock, Governor Pattison will receive the members of the conference at the executive mansion. There will be an entertainment in the Fifth Street Methodist Episcopal church by fifty Indians from the Carlisle Indian Industrial Training school in the evening. Governor Pattison will preside and address the audience, as will also Captain Pratt, superintendent of the Indian school.

PRESIDING ELDER HAMLIN'S REPORT.

At the session of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference at Harrisburg yesterday Presiding Elder Hamlin began his report by saying that the labors of the ministers of the Altoona conference have not been in vain. In face of the financial depression within the bounds of the district, especially paralyzing, the church has bravely struggled forward. He was pained to record the death of Rev. J. W. Ely, of Warriorsmark, and of Rev. Luther F. Smith, of Hollidaysburg, and of Charles Wesley Gilbert, of Tyrone.

During the year six churches have been dedicated. He dwelt especially upon the conversions of the district saying that during the year the whole number of conversions was nearer 3,000 than 2,500, the latter being given as a conservative estimate. Among the conversions reported were these: Altoona—Allegheny, 162; Chestnut avenue, 120; Eighth avenue, 105; North Altoona, 170. Pleasant Gap, 120; Port Matilda 163; Ramey 125; Williamsburg 102; West Clearfield 102; Millhaven 102; Woodland 100; Tyrone, First church 129. There had been 2,000 accessions to the church.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

A Reception to the Members and Visitors Given by Governor and Mrs. Pattison.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 16.—With business, social and musical affairs, the members of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist conference have been much engaged to-day. The morning and this afternoon were consumed in routine conference matters, at 3.30 Governor and Mrs. Pattison gave a reception to the members and visitors at the executive mansion, and this evening fifty girls and boys from the Indian Industrial school at Carlisle gave a musical entertainment, at which Governor Pattison presided and made a speech. Captain R. H. Pratt, saperintendent of the school, and others also made remarks.

It was expected that the general conference propositions would be taken up as a special order to-day, but they were postponed until 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. There will probably be a lively debate on the questisn of women as lay delegates.

SAMUEL BLAIR ADVANCED.

George W. Faus, of Williamsport, and Samuel Blair, of Altoona, were advanced from the second to the third year. W. P. Eveland, Shippensburg; E. E. Harter, Schellsburg; Rath W. Illingworth, Pine Grove, Centre county, from the third to the fourth year. Elders' orders were granted to Jacob H. Diebel, Littlestown; John W. Glover, Birmingham; Henry Treverton, Thompsontown; Edwin L. Eslinger, York; William J. Sheaffer, Kedron; Frank W. Leidy, Williamsburg; Alfred L. Miller, Riverside; George L. Comp, Roedsville, and T. A. Elliott, Martinsburg.

Revs. Charles Reshall and Thomas A. Elliott were continued in the class of the fourth year. Rev. Andrew D. Meloy, of this city, was discontinued at his own request.

DEACONS ORDAINED.

The following were ordained deacons and were addressed by Bishop Hurst: William H. Miller, Shirleysburg; Henry K. Ash, Altoona; Hugh Strain, Morrisdale; Joseph H. Price, Greencastle; Frank W. Curry, Mapleton; J. H. Dougherty, Williamsport; N. E. Clever, McVeytown; Morris E. Swartz, West Fairview; C. M. Barnitz, Audenried; Almon Hontz, Jameson City; George Frownfelter and A. S. Fasick, Harrisburg. They all promised among other things to abstain from the use of tobacco.

Dr. Breckinridge, of the Methodist Episcopal hospital, of New York, represented that institution. For four years two ladies of the conference, residing at Berwick, have given $250 each year to maintain a child's crib, and a mother during the same time has contributed $365 each year to maintain a bed.

Dr. Kelley, editor of the Methodist Review, spoke in the interest of the magazine. It has the largest circulation of any review in the nation. It has had ten editors in seventy-five years.

NEEDS OF PHILADELPHIA HOSPITAL.

Dr. Rittenhouse, superintendent of the Philadelphia hospital, stated the needs and work of that institution. In twenty two months since the opening they have treated 3,700 patients from sixteen Methodist conferences and nineteen other denominations. Ninety per cent. of the treatment has been free. Mrs. Jackson, of Berwick, has given $5,000 to endow a bed, and Mr. Kinslow, of Newton Hamilton, has promised a like amount.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the anniversary of the Preachers' Aid society was held. Rev. W. A. Stephens, D. D., of Clearfield, presided.

Rev. J. Benson Hamilton, D. D., of New York, spoke in advocacy of the veterans' movement and was followed by M. B. Hicks, of Williamsport, who spoke of the poorly paid preachers, the average salary in this conference being $700.

The reception at the executive mansion was a delightful affair and this evening's concert by the Indian boys and girls was a treat.

THINGS MONEY CANNOT BUY.

How much the happiness of individual lives is made up of priceless things, unsaleable in the coin of the land yet found quickly when the heart of the searcher honestly desires them? Many of these real treasures are qualities that simply diffuse themselves through the moral and mental atmosphere, and are sometimes little valued, because they seem to be too vaporous and too illusive to be practically grasped; but they are genuine possessions, and won by heart service.

Who does not really rejoice to have an honorable name, not necessarily a distinguished name but a clean one? Truly, pride is such an inheritance, which cannot be bought, is justifiable if with it there are mingled a feeling of humility and desire to do one's own part to transmit the name as unsullied as it had been bestowed. What makes home dearer and sweeter than all else, and treasured while life lasts? Not the tables and chairs, not the delicacy of porcelean, or aesthetic beauty which the loom achieves. These minister to the comfort, taste and artistic nature; but beyond these there is something which ministers to the heart and soul, glorifying plain surroundings and homely details, something illusive to measure or weight, yet potent to guide, to comfort and to help. What is this but the sympathy, the trust, the spirit of sacrifice, the gentleness, the faith, the readiness to do and to bear, which, blended together, make the chain that binds us to our homes?

What beautiful prospect, what luxurious surroundings, what wonders of nature or art but lose their mysterious charm, when viewed by eyes that seeing see not, or when shared with a cold, thankless heart? The power to enjoy, the power to appreciate, these are what render pleasures real and bring the joy into them. This thankful receiving of pleasures, great or small, and extracting the honey of enjoyment from them, is not to be found at any store, yet it is another and large factor in true happiness.

Contentment, too, that balm against the ravages of worldly unrest, where can it be found, and what is its price? Not silver or gold, but patient striving with a thankful heart will bring it to the soul who desires it, and in its possession lurks the charm to chase away unhappy visions, to still unwise longings, and to open the inner vision to the peaceful delights of the home, the friends, the advantages which may be ours. And so through all the phases of human happiness we may go, finding always that its true essence is something that must be gained without money and without price.—Caryl.

A 2 BUSHEL SACK OE MONEY.

Uniontown, March 16.—Henry Jennings has sold the Zearing farm, near Lemont station, to John Yeager, for $1,400. Yeager was to bring the money here and turn it over. He turned up at the National Bank of Fayette county with a two bushel sack on his back. In this he had the $1,400. There were a few nickles, a few dollars in dimes and fully $400 in quarters and halves. The remainder was in paper money and silver dollars.

The money had evidently been stored away a long time, as it smelled musty, and some of the pieces were very old, several of the dollars having been made in 1843 and 1844. Yeager walked from Lemont and carried the money on his back.

WHERE TO DUMP YOUR ASHES.

The School Board is very anxious to complete the filling of and leveling up of the lot at the Stone School building. Those having dirt or ashes to move will find ample room to dump the same on this lot. By some means the impression preyails that the board does not desire any more dumping on this ground. This is not the case. Of course, as a large number of children play over the ground dead dogs, cats or manure are not wanted.

—On Friday evening Miss Louise Kellerman gave a very pleasant social party and dance at the residence of her father, Mr. James Kellerman, on Bishop street. About eighteen or twenty young ladies and gentlemen were present and the occasion was one much enjoyed by all. The fair young hostess presided with the grace and dignity of an empress and all her guests voted her a royal entertainer.

WHAT A REPORTER SAW.

In a Short Walk Around Town This Morning.

On Friday a gentleman came into this office and remarked that now, as news seemed kind of quiet, it would be a good time to "go for" some one. "Make things lively," said he, "even if you do have to attack the lawyers." Now this we don't think quite fair, that the poor, long-suffering, hard worked, poorly paid lawyers should be made the subject of a newspaper article, without cause or comment. And as we did not feel thusly inclined, a reporter started out this morning to see what there was to be seen, and to hear if there was anything to be heard.

He first went down the new Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and below Lamb street the first thing he saw was baggagemaster George Kerstetter and express messenger William Dawson picking watercress out of the old canal. Then he noticed that the railroad company has a force of men at work building a very heavy wall all along the west side of the railroad embankment. This is a very wise move as it will protect the tracks in floods and all other kinds of weather. From there the reporter wandered up on Curtin street and there he found Street Commissioner Shaughensey, with seven other men, hard at work breaking stone for the purpose of paving that thoroughfare, which has been carefully and very nicely graded from its highest point down to the pike. If these improvements continue Bellefonters who live in that end of town will soon have no reason to complain, as they will be in as good shape as residents anywhere.

PENNSYLVANIA LYNCH LAW.

Pennsylvania newspapers which have denounced lynch law in the South will not be silent when in their own State people so far forget themselves as to take the law into their own hands and send a wretch to his last account. The Keystone State has been so free from this species of lawlessness as to make the news from Stroudsburg come like a shock.

The victim was a negro who had committed a cold-blooded murder, robbery being the motive. He was in jail awaiting trial, and there was no reasonable doubt that he would be convicted and hanged. He managed to escape from jail but was pursued immediately, and caught after a lively chase. His captors, incensed at his crime and effort to escape, and wrought up to a high pitch of indignation by deeds of violence done in the neighborhood by a gang of negro laborers imported from the South to build a new railway, hanged him where he was recaptured.

In one sense, he may be said to have brought the fate on his own head. If he had made no attempt to escape, the people of the neighborhood would not have broken into the jail for the purpose of killing him. The lynching was the result of the chase and the fear that he would make another and successful attempt to escape if returned to jail.

While this may be urged in extenuation the action of the mob must still be sternly condemned. The prisoner should have been returned to jail and the law should have been allowed to take its course. Unauthorized taking of life is just as odious in Pennsylvania as in Mississippi.

HOW MEEK WILL DO.

The following dispatch appeared in the Philadelphia Times, of Friday:

READING, March 15—P Gray Meek, the new Surveyor of the Port of Philadelphia, in answer to an inquiry as to whether applicants from the country for positions in his department will receive any consideration, writes that he is of the opinion that the Democrats of the country are entitled to a full share of all the places, and that these should be so distributed that each county or Congressional district may receive recognition in proportion to its Democratic vote.

—The severest test of manhood is never found in good times, but only in hard times. It is not the man who has success when others do well, but it is the man who keeps up his courage and struggles on when everybody else is wavering or going down, who is the hero in the sight of God and men. It is an easier matter to make good times when both wind and tide are in one's favor, or when one is moving with the current; but it requires character and skill and daring to make head in spite of opposing forces, or to work successfully against the current.

AN UNSEEN ENEMY

Is more to be dreaded than an open and visible one. The subtle and lurking foe, which under the generic name of malaria manifests itself, when it clutches us in its tenacious grasp, in the various form of chills and fever, billious remittent, dumb ague or ague cake, can only be effectually guarded against by fortifying the system against its insiduous attacks with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a thorough anidote to the poison of miasma in the system, and a safeguard against it thoroughly to be relied upon. In the event of a malarious attack, avoid poisoning your system with quinine, and use instead this wholesome remedy, unobjectionable in taste and far more efficacious than any drug. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, billiousness, constipation, kidney complaints and rheumatism.

JUMPED ON A REPORTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 14.—Last night, in the lobby of the Grand hotel, a lively scene occurred between a reporter of one of the afternoon papers and State's Attorney Green Smith, who has become famous because of his Roby decision The latter took exception to an article which had come from the pencil of the reporter and approached him and struck him a vicious blow in the face. The scrimmage was proceeding nicely when the two were separated. The local papers criticise the official severely to-day.

THE PA-BI-LE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TRADE MARK

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card we would ask for sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE

When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and, prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entire y with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which enfeeble mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

All communications confidential and should be addressed to

J. J. GRAMLEY FAILS.

The failure of ex-county treasurer, James J. Gramley, on Thursday and the closing of his store by the sheriff was cause for considerable comment, without a plain elucidation by anyone of the cause thereof. Everybody in Bellefonte and Centre county supposed Mr. Gramley to be financially solid and never, even by the wildest conjecturer, was such a thing as his failure even thought of. Since his retirement from office on the first of last January he has been engaged in the grocery business on Allegheny street, and has done a fairly good business. But the crash came and Thursday morning Sheriff Condo placed his notice on Mr. Gramley's store door.

On Wednesday afternoon judgments aggregating $10,458,36 had been entered against him, on several of which executions were issued, causing the suspension. They were as follows Israel Kauffman $800, L. W. Wian, $667, John Wagner $1,000, Oliver Wolf and H. G. Royer $530, Andrew J. Gramley, $460 and Mary A Gramley et al $7001,36. Besides these judgments there are two small mortgages against Mr Gramley, one a dower, together aggregating $2,386,67 raising his total liabilities to $12,845,03. To offset this he has his store in this place and two fine farms one in Brush Valley, the other near Nittany, together with considerable farm stock, equipment and other valuable personal effects.

WELL HE MIGHT BE.

Thursday's Philadelphia Press contained the following:

Colonel J. L. Spangler, of Bellefonte, Pa., was a prominent figure among a group of well-known business men in the corridor of the Lafayette Hotel yesterday. When asked whether it was true that he was a candidate for Congress in his district, he replied as if he had not heard the question: "I am in the city to-day in relation to matters pertaining to the coal interests in Cambria County, in which General Hastings and myself have a large holding. You know we were together in the work of relief among the sufferers of the Johnstown flood, and it seems that we have been together ever since."

"Colonel, might I inquire what the exact condition of the Republican party is in the State at present?" was asked.

"Well," replied the colonel, "why don't you give me something hard; it doesn't take much of a prophet to name the next Governor of Pennsylvania, and if political conditions keep progressing after the fashion of the Grow campaign it's a serious question whether my friend, General Hastings, won't be elected Governor by acclamation."

DIED AT MOUNT UNION.

On Monday intelligence was received of the death of Mrs. George P. Wakefield, at Mount Union, Pa., at the home of her husband, on Sunday evening, at 8.30 o'clock.

The cause of Mrs. Wakefield's death we have been unable to learn, and it was not known here that she had been ill, hence the sad intelligence was sudden and unexpected.

Her maiden name was Miss Margaret Rishell, and she resided in Centre Hall some years ago, when she was married to Mr. Wakefield and took up her home at Mount Union, where her husband was in business. She was the youngest daughter, of Mr. John Rishell, deceased, who died several years ago. For some time her mother, Mrs. Rishell, has made her home with her daughter at Mount Union.

Mrs. Wakefield was young in years and was aged only about twenty-five years. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock from her late residence, interment being made in the cemetery at Mount Union.

DIED AT POTTER'S MILLS.

Last Monday morning the death of Mr. Harrison Faust, a highly respected and esteemed citizen of Potter's Mills, occurred at his home at that place. Mr. Faust had a severe attack of grip during the winter from which he never fully recovered and about one week previous to his death was attacked with bilious fever, which made rapid progress on his weakened system, and he succumbed early Monday morning.

Mr. Faust was a veteran of the late war, and served his country faithfully during the rebellion. He was a member of the Samuel Shannon Post, G. A. R.

Mr. Faust leaves a family of a wife and five children, three girls and two boys.

The funeral took place on Wednesday morning from his late residence at nine o'clock. Rev. Minnich, of the Methodist church, officiating. Interment was made in the Sprucetown cemetery. At the grave the body was taken charge of by his comrades, the G. A. R., and interred with the impressive and beautiful rites of the order. Mr. Faust was aged about fifty two years.—Reporter.

DEATH OF J. T. SHEARER.

From the Lock Haven Express we glean the following farther particulars of Mr. Shearer, a native of Rebersburg, this county. brief mention of which was made on Thursday:

J. T. Shearer, a well known citizen of this city, died at his late residence, 102 Hanna street, Wednesday evening, after an illness of about four weeks, of paralysis, aged 58 years. He was a member of Trinity M. E. church, and also one of the founders of the Mission church in the First ward, which is now the East Main Street church. Until of late years he was a teacher in the public schools of this city after which he engaged in the feather renovating business. Deceased was the father of two children, one of whom died about six months ago.

The funeral services were held at the family residence, and were in charge of several secret societies, to which he belonged.

THE BRECKINRIDGE TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Madeline Pollard told the story of her life today to a court room full of men. She was on the witness stand from early morning until adjournment, and the tale she told was a romance. She was somewhat theatrical, very plaintive and confiding, and gave her testimony without hesitation. Her brightness, her keen wit and her appreciation of every question were particularly noticeable. For such a senational case, her testimony was free from vulgar and suggestive details. Once when she was asked to tell of a conversation with Colonel Breckinridge about her coming confinement, she burst out, half weepingly, with a protest against being made to say such thins before so many men, and the question was withdrawn. Cold type cannot depict the raising and falling of her plaintive voice; the tone of her demure little acknowledgments about her early life, and the sharp yet courteous replies to inquiries of the defendant's attorney, Major Butterworth. She proved the most interesting witness of the now noted trial and every word she uttered was listened to with attention. She told how she had lived as a little girl; how James Rhodes, an uncouth old man, had made a contract with her to pay for her education on condition that she would pay him back or marry him; how Colonel Breckinridge came into her life; how she passed for nine years as a pure, innocent girl's of the alleged proposal of marriage after the death of Mrs. Breckinridge, and of what followed the defendant's marriage to Mrs. Wing. Her cross examination was in progress when court adjourned.

EVERY TOWN HAS

A liar,
A smart aleck,
Too many dogs,
Chicken thieves,
Some pretty girls,
Men who know it all,
A woman who tattles,
A neighborhood feud,
Stock running at large,
More loafers than it needs,
A few meddlesome old women,
Tobacco users who spit on the floor,
Hens that scratch in other people's gardens.
Some men who make remarks about women,
Wives who support indolent and shiftless husbands,
Mothers who support sons who are past the 21 mark,
A young man who laughs every time he says anything,
People who do not talk about anything but politics and religion,
Scores of men with the caboose of their trousers worn smooth as glass,
Dissolute young men who go in the best of society and the girls believe they are perfect,
Men who can tell all about the finance and how to run other people's business, but have a dismal failure of their own.

IT MIGHT BE.

A recent personal concerning notables of this country says: "Charles K. Harris, composer of 'After the Ball is Over,' has written another song, with the engaging title, "I Was Talking in My Sleep.' He has dedicated it to Allen May, the popular baritone, who is appearing with J M Hill's entertainers at Herrman's New York."

Mr. Harris should have been warned by his friends against selecting such a suggestive title. The song will no sooner be published than some inspired genius will furnish a parody "I was Talking Through my Hat."

THE TOLL DODGERS.

Gate-keeper Snyder, near Centre Hall, who last week had a fracas with two young fellows, strangers, who attempted to get through without paying toll afterwards ascertained the name of the one, Mr. Smith, of Bellefonte, and had him brought before Esq. Linn, where he was fined $10 and costs. The toll was only two cents.

The name of the other one, who assaulted and roughly handled Mr. Snyder, has also been ascertained and he may also pay a big price for his fun.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY.

On Monday evening, Mrs. Margaret Miess, a very aged lady, died at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Jacob From, of pneumonia. Mrs. Miess had been bedfast since last summer, when she met with an accident, breaking a leg by a fall. She was a charge of Potter township, and was aged about 82 years. The funeral took place Thursday, interment being made in the cemetery at Centre Hall.

INVITATIONS ISSUED.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Mr. Lycurgus Lingle, of Milesburg, and Miss Jennie B. Boal, of Centre Hall, on Thursday next, 22nd, at twelve o'clock, noon. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Boal.

COULD GET NO EVIDENCE.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in the Lynching Case of Richard Puryear.

Strowdsburg, Pa., March 16.—The coroner's jury finished its deliberation in the lynching of Richard Puryear this afternoon, and brought in a verdict that the murderer came to his death by being hung by parties unknown to the jury. Many witnesses were called, but the jury was unable to get any evidence. Those who admitted having witnessed the lynching refused to give information, as it might tend to incriminate, they claimed, them in the affair. The sheriff was censured by the jury for his gross carelessness in permitting Puryear to escape from the jail, and the county commissioners also came in for their share of censure for their economy in discharging the watchman previous to the escape of the murderer.

The county authorities made preparations to bury the body in the cemetery here in the afternoon, but found that it would have to be kept, according to the law, twenty-four hours, and, if not claimed by friends in that time, be turned over to the board of medical authorities at the state college. The body was put in a neat coffin last night and placed in the corridor of the jail, where it was viewed by thousands. The body was sent by express at 7 o'clock this morning to George Willet, Philadelphia, to be used at the University of Pennsylvania for dissecting purposes.

The negro a week ago made a confession of the murder of Christian Ehlers and said he alone did the crime and that he intended to kill all three persons, Christian Ehlers, his wife and John Shotzman. The motive was robbery. The escape of John Shotzman prevented him from carrying out his desperate crime. As there was no doubt of the guilt of the negro and the carelessness in the handling of the prisoner by the jail authorities, the community generally sanctions the action of lynching and seemed pleased that the desperado is placed where he will do no further harm.

District Attorney Williams will bring the matter before the grand jury which commences its sessions in the April term of court Monday, but it is doubtful if enough evidence can be obtained to secure a conviction.

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY'S SERVICES.

Much Business Transacted by the Methodists at Harrisburg.

The opening services of Saturday's session of the Central Pennsylvania conference were conducted by Rev. J. Z. Lloyd, of Waynesboro, who read the Scriptures as contained in Revelations, second chapter, and led the conference in prayer.

Rev. T. S. Wilcox read the minutes which were found to be correct and were adopted.

The ministers who have been on probation for one year were passed upon and the following were continued on trial: Revs. J. H. Morgan, W. W. Cable, George F. Boggs, Edwin A. Pyle, Elliott S. Latshaw, William H. Miller.

Candidates for the order of local deacons were called and having passed the required examination, the following were elected: Rev. Franklin E. Hartman, of Madison, New Jersey; Oliver H. Albertson, of Harveyville; Samuel W. Purvis of Carlisle; Joseph Clemmens, of Carlisle; Boyd R. Johnston, Lewisburg; Edwin A. Pyles, of Jersytown.

The relation of Rev. A. W. Gibson was changed from supernumerary to superannuated.

The following visiting brethern were severally introduced to the conference: Rev. Dr. Upham, of Drew Theological [illegible] W. A. Spencer, of the Church Extension society.

The following paper was adopted by a rising vote:

Whereas, In the providence of God, our dear brother, Rev. W W Evans, has been since our convening deeply afflicted in the death of his father-in-law, one of the most devoted and active laymen within the bounds of our conference, and in the present serious illness of his daughter.

Resolved, That we hereby extend to him an expression of our deepest sympathy in his bereavement and affliction and assure him that he and his family shall have a place in our petitions at the throne of grace with the more devout hope that the loved one at home many speedily recover.

The committee appointed to try the charges against Revs. J. F. Kerlin and M. Runnyan presented the following reports:

In the case of Rev. J. F. Kerlin, two specifications were sustained, which did not sustain the charge of immorality, but a minor offense of imprudent conduct, and the suspension he has already suffered is deemed a sufficient punishment for the offence.

In the case of Rev. M. J. Runnyan the committee reported no ground for action.

At this point the order of the day was taken up and a spirited discussion took place over the proposition handed down from the general conference for the action of the annual conference. The proposition, boiled down to its essence, is simply and only the equalization of ministerial and lay delegates in the general conference.

Dr. Gray, of Williamsport, spoke against the proposition, assigning two or three reasons for his opposition. Rev. F. B. Riddle switched off his old track and advocated the measure. Rev. J. Z. Lloyd spoke against it. Brother Lloyd's native wit called forth round after round of applause. Dr. Evans, of the Harrisburg district, registered his opinion in a clear speech in favor of the proposition. After some further discussion the vote was taken, resulting in the adoption of the proposition by a count vote of 97 to 90.

The next proposition was that of the change of ratio of ministerial representation. The ratio now is that of one ministerial delegate from each annual conference for every forty-five members. The change proposes a reduction of just one-half by making the limit one for every ninety. The result of this ballot was 99 for and 100 against.

The next vote was taken on the change of time for the meeting of the general conference from the first day of May to the first Wednesday of May every fourth year. This vote resulted in 166 yeas and 2 nays.

A reconsideration of the vote on equal ministerial and lay representation was ordered. A second ballot resulted in 94 for and 101 against. Rev. Dr. Spencer, of the Church Extension society, was introduced and addressed the conference.

Rev. James Marrow, the secretary of the Pennsylvania Bible society, also spoke briefly in the interests of the work he represents. He made an earnest plea for the putting of the Bible again in the Sunday schools as the text book to be studied. Let every member of the Sunday schools and Epworth Leagues be the owners of a copy of the Holy Bible.

Rev. George W. Maclaughlin, D. D., corresponding secretary of the Pennsylvania Seamen's Friend society, spoke of the relation of the seamen to the church. If a good man he may help to spread the gospel in heathen lands. On the other hand, if he be a bad man he may obstruct missionary enterprise. Great Britain loves her sailors. It was the sailor that made Great Britain. The sailor is an explorer and opens up new worlds. Notwithstanding all this, the sailor has been greatly neglected. This society is interested in providing homes where these neglected men may find comfort and pleasure. It has in this way cared for 40,000 seamen.

Rev. Dr. Freeman, of the Sunday School Union and Tract society, called attention to several facts concerning the Sunday schools of our church.

The following figures were given: We have 28,000 Sunday schools, 300,000 officers and teachers and 2,400,000 scholars. There were 120,000 conversions in the Sunday schools last year.

The Sunday School Journal had a circulation of 194,000. Sunday school papers have a circulation of 850,000, and leaves of the three grades 2,000,000.

Dr. Upham, of Drew seminary, of Madison, N. J., represented what he was pleased to call the "best theological seminary in Methodism."

Conference adjourned in regular form.

At 2 o'clock the anniversary in behalf of the Sunday School Union and Tract society was held, presided over by Rev. Alexander Lamberson. Addresses were delivered by Revs. James Morrow and J. M. Freeman.

At the same hour the Mutual Beneficial association held a business meeting in the chapel with Rev. Richard Hinkle in the chair. Several new members were added to this useful organization.

At 4 o'clock Rev. J. O. Peck delivered a very earnest and lucid address upon the subject of "Revivals." He asked first of all, what is a revival? He defined a genuine revival as a work of the Holy Spirit. There cannot be any revival in the true sense of that word looked for to come from any other source. The human agency must operate under the guidance of this agency. The preacher must first have this influence and then under the power thus given will be able to communicate the power to the membership. The membership must be stirred to more earnest prayer. In secret prayer is to be found the dynamite of the revival. The revival is a life boat sent to rescue the poor backslider, who is being pounded to death by the waves of doubt upon the rocks of sin. It is in the revival the sinner has hope of being saved. Millions who would be dead in trespass and sins now are happy by being saved through this gracious agency. Four fifths of all the regenerated people in the world owe their new life to special seasons of revival.

The evening anniversary was held at Grace Methodist Episcopal, presided over by Rev. J. B. Polsgrove and a very earnest address was delivered by Rev W. A. Spencer, D. D., upon the work and needs of the Church Extension society.

SUNDAY SERVICE.

All the Methodist pulpits of Harrisburg and many of the other pulpits were filled by visiting clergymen who are in attendance upon the sessions of our conference

At the Fifth Street church, the seat of the conference, the services began with the lovefeast at 9 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Robert McWilliams, the founder of this church,

At 10 o'clock Bishop Hurst preached a scholarly sermon and ordained the following ministers as deacons, using the impressive ritual of the church: Revs. H. K. Ash, Frank W. Curry, Charles H. Campbell, Morris E. Swartz, Charles McBarnitz, Oliver Albertson, Franklin E. Hartman, Samuel W. Purvis, Joseph Clemens, Boyd R. Johnston, Edwin A. Pyles.

At 3 o'clock, after an eloquent gospel sermon by Rev. W. A. Spencer in the Ridge avenue church, the bishop, assisted by a number of the elders, ordained to the office of elder the following members of the conference who have completed the four years' course of study: Revs. J. W Glover, Henry Treverton, Elmer E. Eslinger, Jacob H. Dieble, William H. Shaeffer, Frank W. Leidy, Alfred L. Miller and George L. Comp.

The meeting Sunday evening in the Fifth Street Methodist church was in the interests of foreign missions. Dr. J. O. Peck, of New York, one of the corresponding secretaries and Dr. Dimmick, of Grace church this city, delivered addresses to a congregation, filling every part of the church.

Rev. M. H. Croswaite read the following statistics as the contributions during the year: Altoona district $9,691 decrease $55; Danville district $8,906, decrease $296; Harrisburg district $8,844, decrease 7.29; Juniata district, $5,028, decrease $433; Williamsport district, $9,303; increase $598. Total, $41,832, decrease $914.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Tyrone Was Selected as the Place of Meeting Next Year—Stationing Committee Report To-Day.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 19.—At today's session of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist conference the board of stewards and committee on necessitous cases reported moneys received: Altoona district, $1,646; Danville, $1,711; Harrisburg, $1,676; Juniata, $1,[illegible]; Williamsport, $1,678; chartered fund, $25; book concern at New York, $1,649; Mrs. C. J. Jackson's special gift, $159; total, $9,755; decrease, $627. Appropriated for next year: Altoona, Danville, Harrisburg and Williamsport, $2,100 each, Juniata, $1,600; total, $10,000.

Bloomsburg, Tyrone and Shamokin were nominated as the place for holding the next conference. The vote being taken, Tyrone was unanimously selected.

Committee on the Bible cause reported, urging the general circulation of the Bible and its frequently being taught in the schools as a book.

Report of the committee on periodicals recommended the Christian Advocate, Methodist Review and the Gospel in all lands; and calls special attention to the Pennsylvania Methodist and rejoices in its largely increased circulation.

PREACHERS' AID COMMITTEE REPORT.

Preachers' aid committee reported and nominated the presiding elder of Williamsport district, and the pastors of Pine, Mulberry, Newburg, Fourth street and Messrs. Butler, Ames and Hazlett as managers. Rev. Dr. Payne, secretary of the board of education, represented that cause. The collections have increased from $31,000 to $70,000 during the past five years. We now have 4300 students, 1,118 of these being aided by the society, nearly twice as many as by any other denominational educational society in the country.

Governor Pattison being introduced, said his father had been in the itinerary for twenty-one years. He was in those days more interested in the parsonage than the church. Ever since he had been very much interested in a Methodist conference. The work of the church is unselfish. It seeks to save and bless the whole world.

ADDRESS BY THE BISHOP.

The bishop then addressed the conference on the American University. He had driven around the city of Washington for two weeks before he found a site. This site of ninety acres cost $100,000. Washington citizens agreed to pay the purchase price all of which had been covered save $10,000 $12,000 of which was given by a Roman Catholic. A lady of New York, a few weeks ago, gave $100,000 to endow the chair of history, and six weeks previous a gentleman in Ohio gave an equal amount. There is now an endowment of $500,000 besides the land, which is now worth $500,000. The corner stone of the first building will be laid next fall. Christ church college, where Wesley went to school, is to be reproduced, to be called Asbury Hall, and is to be paid for by Methodist preachers. It will cost $100,000, of which $61,000 is now on hand. A subscription for this purpose was lifted amounting to $1,650, making a total of $4,000 from this conference.

EXECUTIVE SESSION HELD.

The conference then went into executive session to consider the applications for admission on trial. Revs Curtin G. Roop, of Tyrone; Daniel D. Kauffman, of Concord; Joseph Clemens, of Carlisle; Franklin E. Hartman, Madison, N. J.; J. C. Bickle, Harveyville, and Frank E. Byers, Madison, N. J., were admitted on trial.

At 2 p. m. the memorial service was held in the church and tributes were paid to the memory of Revs. J. W. Ely, John Donohue, J. S. Clarke and Luther F. Smith, and Mrs. James Curns. A paper on the late Mrs. Margaret S. Scriber was read by Rev. Mr. Lambert, of Huntingdon.

At the same hour in the chapel, the deaconess movement was discussed by Miss Josephine Corbin and Miss Boswell both of Philadelphia.

At 4 p. m. a preachers' institute was held when Dr. S. F. Upham, of Drew Theological seminary, talked most interestingly and practically on "The Appointments After conference."

A report was adopted, providing that all monies for claimants shall be presented to the conference treasurer. Considerable routine business was transacted. It is expected that the stationing committee will report to-morrow morning.

CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS.

Methodists of Central Pennsylvania Finally Adjourn to Meet in Tyrone.

HARRISBURG, March 20.—Tuesday's sessions of the Central Pennsylvania conference began with the devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. R. H. Gilbert, of Tyrone. The committee on complimentary resolutions presented a report, which was adopted.

The report referred in very complimentary terms to the members of our conference who have gone out from us, special notice being given to Rev. H. R. Bender, D. D., whose scholarly attainments and gentlemanly bearing endeared him to his people and the members of the conference. The administration of Bishop Hurst was commended, notwithstanding the adverse criticism indulged in by the brethren; at least the report was adopted.

The order of the day, namely the report of the Veteran Methodist Ministerial Relief association, was taken up and after some discussion the plan as published in the Tribune a few days ago was adopted.

The report of the committee on Dickinson seminary presented a report, referring to the high appreciation we feel of the devoted labors of Dr. Gray, the president, in bringing the institution up to its present high standing.

The report pledges the pastors to raise in their respective charges the sum of $10, to be applied to the erection of a building suited to the students who desire to take instructions in music, the facilities now being entirely inadequate to the demands. Dr. Gray spoke briefly, enforcing the recommendations of the committee.

A resolution was presented recommending that the ratio of representation in the general conference be reduced to one for every sixty-five instead of one for every forty-five as now. The resolution also recommended that the same proposition be submitted to all the annual conferences by the bishop of 1895.

The statistical secretary read from the tables the following figures: Number of probationers, 9,371; members, 51,873; local preachers, 153; deaths, 688; children baptized, 2,743; adults baptized, 2,131; Sunday schools, 593; officers and teachers 9,557; scholars, 69,301; churches, 561; probable value, $2,437,330; parsonages, 162; value, $395,325; building and improving, $90,461; paid on indebtedness, $158,459; pastors salary, $179,798; house rent, $26,008; total, $205,806; deficiency, $6,618.

Rev. M. K. Foster asked for a superannumerary relation for Rev. Samuel Creighton, which was granted.

Mr. Creighton explained why he made the request. It was not on the ground of ill health, for he had not been stronger for the last fifteen years, but he felt that embarrassment was occasioned by his appointment. The conference very reluctantly granted the relation.

After a few explanatory remarks by the bishop, he announced 816th hymn, beginning, "And let our bodies part; to different climes repair." This hymn being sung he offered prayer. The journal of the morning session was read and approved.

The bishop thanked the conference for the kindness shown him, and complimented the presiding elders by saying that he never met a set of men who were better qualified for their responsibilities than these men.

He asked of all the charges a cordial reception for the pastors appointed.

He read the appointments and the conference adjourned sine die.

PROMINENT LAWYER DEAD.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., March 18.—This morning Hon. Washington Townsend, aged 62 years, an eminent lawyer and a prominent politician, died at his residence in this place of paralysis of the brain. He was president of the National bank of Chester county for many years and up to the time of his death. In 1882 he was elected to congress by the Whigs in one of the most remarkable and bitter political battles ever fought in this district. Among the candidates be defeated at the time was Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, now United States ambassador to Italy. He was elected to the national Republican convention several times and distinguished himself by opposing the unit rule when Cameron was aspiring for the presidency and voted for Lincoln.

Sick, Lifeless, Dull

BUT NOW IS

Healthy, Happy, Lively

This Decided Change Brought About by Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen—I wish to certify to the following facts: My little girl, Lilla May Guthrie, had a severe attack of the grip, and got somewhat better, but she did not seem to get right well. She lingered along from day to day, poor, weak and languid. We consulted a leading physician, and he said it was the dregs of the grip still about her. We gave the medicine he ordered, but she seemed to get

More and More Delicate.

She could scarcely eat anything, and what little she did take seemed to do her no good. Her flesh was soft and not healthy, and she was stupid and dull with no ambition. We were very much concerned about her. No medicine seemed to have any effect until about two months ago we commenced to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She had not taken half a bottle before she began to eat heartily, and we could see a decided change in her. Today she is in the full enjoyment of Perfect Health.

Her flesh is solid, her appetite good and cheeks rosy, her sleep sound and refreshing, and her spirits high. She is full of life, and as mischievous as she can be. All this improvement was brought about by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife joins with me in recommending this medicine as the best in the world for building up the system." COMMITTED TO JAIL.

Last Saturday Prof. Clarence Davis and Mrs. Ella Redding, on the oath of Amos Redding, were arrested and committed to jail in default of bail to await a hearing on the charge of adultery, etc. The parties were arrested at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rishel, of this place, and a hearing of the case will take place to-morrow.

Mrs. Ella Redding is, or was, the wife of Amos Redding and a daughter of Jonathan Schenck, Esq., of Howard, one of the most prominent and reputable families in the Bald Eagle valley, and until recently, when a family difficulty occurred between Mr. and Mrs. Redding, no word detrimental to the fair name and honor of Mrs. Ella had been breathed against her by any of the residents of the neighborhood where she was born and grew up to womanhood and, we are loth to believe, that she has committed any unlawful act. Of the character and life of Prof. Clarence Davis, who was arrested with her, we know nothing.

Mr Amos Redding, the prosecutor, is a blacksmith who a number of years ago married a sister of his present wife who died, leaving him one son, who was taken care of and raised to manhood's estate by Mr. Schenck, his grandfather. After the death of Mr. Redding's first wife he drifted to California where he successfully carried on his trade and finally married again. We think he resided in the Golden State about sixteen years. His second wife dying there Mr. Redding returned to Howard and made his home with his former father-in-law, Mr. Schenck, and in the course of time, married his third wife, who was a sister of his first wife and at that time the widow Bathurst, her first husband having been dead about four years.

The disagreement between the parties is of about a year's standing, and finally led up to the present arrests; and, we are informed, with the arrest of Mr. Redding to follow.

We think, if common sense efforts of reconciliation had been made when the breach between the man and wife was first made, they would now be living together in harmonious accord, and we hope such an effort will yet be successfully made and that we will not be compelled to add another number to the long list of marriage failures.

DEATH OF MRS. KLINGER.

On Friday we announced the serious illness of Mrs. Polly Klinger, at her home on Thomas street, who had been stricken with paralysis on Thursday night. To-day it is our painful duty to chronicle the fact of her death, which occurred Sunday morning at 4.30 o'clock. Mrs. Klinger was one of the pioneer residents of Bellefonte, having lived here for many years, and being almost 80 years old at the time of her death. She was a devout christian lady, a member of the Reformed church, and always lived a consistent, upright life.

She leaves to mourn her death seven children, four daughters and three sons, as follows: Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. William Derstine and Mrs. Augustus Cox, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Simon Harper, of Centre Hall; and Jacob Klinger, of Oak Hall; William, of Big Run, Jefferson county, and John, of this place.

NEW ANTIDOTE FOR LAUDANUM.

George Dundear, of Pittsburg, took laudanum with suicidal intent and was removed to the hospital. Notwithstanding the fact that the would-be suicide was blue in the face and his nervous system paralyzed, Drs. Moreland and Gregg resolved to try the newly discovered antidote, permanganate of potash. The doctors had no data to go on and could only use experimental doses of the remedy. With the fifth injection the muscles began to contract. Seven injections in all were made and then the patient was pronounced out of danger. This is the first time that this treatment has been used in this city and possibly in the world outside of New York city. It was only the apparent hopelessness of the case that prompted the physicians to attempt the use of the new antidote.

GOVERNING WITHOUT LAW.

It is difficult to form an opinion at this distance on the merits of the civil war in Colorado. Governor WAITE is so irresponsible a crank that the presumption is against him, especially when he overrules what appears to be a regular judicial order. On the other hand, he certainly represents the authority of the State and the men who are arrayed in armed resistance to him are described in all the accounts as rowdies and gamblers and representatives of the disorderly classes, in alliance with the firemen and police.

The truth probably is that the Governor is right in what he wants to do and wrong in his way of doing it. If he has the lawful authority to remove the Police Commissioners, the injunction of a local court cannot be decisive against his use of this authority. But it should be decisive until regularly overruled, and no rational man, in a modern community, would have thought of carrying out his own will by force of arms, however lawless the attitude of those opposed to him.

WAITE is made of the same kind of stuff as TILLMAN, of South Carolina, and both are examples of that most dangerous class the reformers impatient of the restraints of law. Both of these fellows mean well, but a Governor who undertakes to get along without due process of law is no better than the unofficial dynamiter. That way lies anarchy, and anarchy seems to be what WAITE has succeeded in bringing about for the time being at Denver. Of course the matter will straighten itself out, but the people of Colorado ought not to miss the lesson.

JEMIMA'S BEAU.

Jemima, once she had a beau,
He didn't mind her name, you know,
Although it was so prosy.
She had catarrh, and had it so,
That he at last was forced to go—
The odor was no posy.

If she had been sage in time, she would have taken Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. An offensive breath is most distressing, not only to the person afflicted, if the person has any pride, but to those with whom he or she comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has parted not only friends but lovers. Bad breath and catarrh are inseperable. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases, as thousands can testify. $500 reward offered for an incurable case by World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

CHIEF BURGESS' ACCOUNT.

Ex-Chief Burgess J. C. Meyer has kindly furnished us with a copy of his report of the receipts and expenditures by him during his term of office from the first Monday in March, 1893, to the first Monday in March, 1894, which shows up as follows:

Total amount of money received from fines, licenses, etc., ... $167.50

EXPENDITURES.

P. Gray Meek, license book	$3.50
Wm. Garis, cleaning lockup	1.50
Frank Westcott	1.50
Montgomery & Co., policemen's clothing	15.50
S. Lewin & Co., " "	20.00
Montgomery & Co., hats	4.00
John Anderson, meals	2.65
Total	$48.65

Leaving a balance paid to borough treasurer Charles F. Cook, of $118.85.

Charles F. Richards, as Assistant burgess, also collected in fines $11.00, $4.00 of which amount was paid to the Secretary of the school board and $7.00 paid to the borough treasurer.

The above is certainly a very creditable showing of Mr. Meyer's administration. To the writer's certain knowledge the above is the largest amount of money collected by any Burgess for many years, and it may be the largest amount ever collected. For his watchfulness and careful attention in this direction Mr. Meyer is certainly deserving of special commendation. He has furnished a precedent for future Burgesses to follow.

AGES, SAGES, AND WAGES.

If you have a wife and a half-a-dozen daughters, you can keep them all well by very simple means. Let them use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is good for women of all ages. You will not need to spend all your wages for it. Those ancient sages the M. D. 's of a century since, did nothing but dose and bleed their patients. We do better to-day: We use Dr. Pierce's remedies. For womankind, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is simply indispensable. The young girl needs its strengthening help at that critical period when she is blossoming into womanhood. The matron and mother find in it invigoration and relief from the numerous ills which beset their existence. And ladies well advanced in years universally acknowledge the revivifying and restorative effects of this favorite and standard remedy.

THE BEST KNOWN.

That which is the most widely known, is sure to give the greatest satisfaction. When we are sick and in need of a physician, we send for the one who is known to be the most skilful in his profession. It is only recently that people all over the land had the opportunity of obtaining the best medical consultation and advice without charge.

Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York, is without question the best known and most skilful physician in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He is the discoverer of the wonderful cure, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and has lately adopted the plan of treating the sick from far and near by means of letter correspondence. His success is simply wonderful. People can consult him by letter, free of charge.

He gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters, answering all questions and thoroughly explaining your disease so that you know just what is the matter with you. For this, there is no charge whatever. The doctor uses only harmless vegetable remedies and has the greatest success in curing disease through letter correspondence. Send for his symptom blank, and he will write you a full description of your disease and give you advice and directions how to cure it, free of charge.

ARE YOU A SUFFERER.

FROM RHEUMATISM OR NEURALGIA.

E. P. Tayer and Solomon Davis Speak to Victims of These Terrible Diseases.

E. P. Tayer, of East Nassau New York, says: "I wish it possible to speak personally with every rheumatic victim, for I would tell them of my terrible experience and the relief and cure I found in a simple remedy.

"When I first saw in the newspapers, 'Rheumatism can be cured" I was loath to believe, it but when I found that the statement was made by Dr. David Kenedy, of Rondout, N. Y., I inquired into it, and upon his advice I began to use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. My condition at that time seemed hopeless. I had suffered for fifteen years with inflamatory rheumatism. My physician said I would be a cripple for life, but it was not ordained that way, for I had not used Favorite Remedy long, before I was convinced that it was the right medicine, and in a short while I was cured. That was three years ago, and I have not felt a trace of the disease since." Solomon Davis, of North Kortright, N. Y., suffered awfully from neuralgia and loss of sleep, as is frequently the case with elderly people; in speaking to the writer, he said: "I found that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy relieved the bowels, improved the circulation of the blood, and the old pain left me altogether."

As one of Bellefonte's physicians recently said. "There is no reason in suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia, for Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will cure them." All druggists sell it.

IS IT SAFE

To neglect yourself it troubled with any disease of the kidneys? No, it is dangerous; and if you are so afflicted, attend to yourself now. Do not wait, but use Sulphur Bitters at once. They cured me when, I was given up to die by several physicians. —JONATHAN HAM, Boston.

EVERY TOWN HAS

A liar,
A smart aleck,
Too many dogs,
Chicken thieves,
Some pretty girls,
Men who know it all,
A woman who tattles,
A neighborhood feud,
Stock running at large,
More loafers than it needs,
A few meddlesome old women,
Tobacco users who spit on the floor,
Hens that scratch in other people's gardens,
Some men who make remarks about women,
Wives who support indolent and shiftless husbands,
Mothers who support sons who are past the 21 mark,
A young man who laughs every time he says anything,
People who do not talk about anything but politics and religion,
Scores of men with the caboose of their trousers worn smooth as glass,
Dissolute young men who go in the best of society and the girls believe they are perfect,
Men who can tell all about the finance and how to run other people's business, but have a dismal failure of their own.

Mr. P. Sloan, 187 Portland St., Boston, Mass., gives it superlative praise. He writes. "I have used Salvation Oil for neuralgia, and find it superior to any liniment I have ever used."

THERE'S A SHOCK

to your system, with the usual pill. And there's weakness afterward, and caused by it. How can you expect any lasting benefit from such things?

The nearest to Nature's own way is with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. In every derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels—Sick and Bilious Headaches, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks—they promptly relieve and permanently cure. No disturbance, no griping, no reaction afterward. They regulate the system perfectly—one tiny, sugar-coated Pellet is a gentle laxative or corrective—three a cathartic.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

Buy of reliable dealers. With tricky ones, something else that pays them better will probably be offered as "just as good."

Perhaps it is, for them; but it can't be, for you.

For every case of Catarrh which they cannot cure, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy agree to pay $500 in cash. You're cured by its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties, or you're paid.

IN paint the best is the cheapest. Don't be misled by trying what is said to be "just as good," but when you paint insist upon having a genuine brand of

Strictly Pure White Lead

It costs no more per gallon than cheap paints, and lasts many times as long.

Look out for the brands of White Lead offered you; any of the following are sure:

"Armstrong & McKelvy,"
"Beymer-Bauman,"
"Davis-Chambers,"
"Fahnestock."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

These colors are sold in one-pound cans, each can being sufficient to tint 25 pounds of strictly Pure White Lead the desired shade; they are in no sense ready-mixed paints, but a combination of perfectly pure colors in the handiest form to tint Strictly Pure White Lead.

A good many thousand dollars have been saved property-owners by having our book on painting and color-card. Send us a postal card and get both free.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

FLED TO HIS FATE.

Negro Puryear Escaped from Prison to Be Lynched.

Stroudsburg, Pa., March 15.—Richard Puryear, the colored desperado, who several weeks ago brutally killed Christian C. Ehler and tried to murder the entire Ehler family, was lynched by a mob this morning. By some means Puryear had secured a stick with which he pushed back the bolt of his cell door during the night, and the outer cell door being unlocked through gross carelessness on the part of some one, he gained access to the hall of the jail. He then tried to force his way out through an upper window but failed. He next secreted himself in the bath room and waited unil the sheriff should come in the morning.

About 7 o'clock this morning, as Sheriff Kryes unlocked the jail door to take breakfast in to the prisoners and stepped into the corridor he noticed that the outer door of Puryear's cell was unlocked. At the same time the prisoner jumped from his hiding place and sped out of the open jail door. He then went out through the kitchen of the jail building and running across some vacant lots, was soon outside the borough limits. The sheriff shouted and attracted the attention of his wife who unlocked the jail door and set him free.

A general alarm was at once sent out and immediate pursuit made of the escape murderer. As he had but a few feet the start of his pursuers there was no possibility of his getting away. The desperate man swam McMichaels creek, closely pursued by a big negro, who caught him just as he landed on the opposite bank. Puryear resisted, but the sight of a relvover in his captor's hand caused him to yield quickly.

He was then brought back across the creek, where he was seized by a crowd that had gathered and was at once lynched. Someone in the mob had a rope which was quickly attached to the limb of the tree and willing hands swung the desperado up. From the time he escaped from the jail till he was hung only nineteen minutes elapsed.

A SMART EDITOR.

The man who does the writing for the Lewisburg Journal (democratic) is a big headed, well-informed man—a gentleman possessed of a greater fund of information (?) than any other writer we know of in Pennsylvania. As samples of his wonderful knowledge we clip the following item from his issue of the 14th:

"Hon. A. O. Furst has been renominated by the Republicans of Centre county for President Judge of that district."

Our editorial brother is just about five months premature in such an announcement, as the republican county convention for the nomination of county officers, etc., will not be held until in August. But here is another sample:

"Parties from Bellefonte tell us that Gen. Hastings had a big job of it to get the endorsement of his own county for the Governorship nomination. The convention at one time was against him, but by fair promises Hastings managed to get a resolution of endorsement passed."

The above is so preposterously false that a denial is even superfluous, as Hastings had not only the undivided support of every republican in Centre county, and that without even the asking, but in addition about two thirds of the democrats are for him.

HUNTINGDON REFORMATORY.

Harrisburg, March 15.—The report of the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon was to-day received by Secretary of State Harrity. It shows that from July 1, 1893, to January 1, 1894, seventy-five men were paroled. Sixty-six of them are reporting regularly and are doing well, one has died on parole, seven have violated their paroles by leaving employers, and only one has been guilty of legal offences, and he is now in the Eastern Penitentiary.

As a whole, the parole system is believed to be working admirably and to produce beneficial results by appealing to the honor of the young men.

EXCITING PIGEON SHOOTING.

Riverton, N. J. March 15.—The shooting match between George W. Work, of New York, and Charles Macalester, of Philadelphia, was decided on the grounds of the Riverton Gun club here this afternoon. The match was at 200 live pigeons, thirty yards rise and 50 yards boundary, for a wager of $2,500 a side, Macalester killed 176, while the New York expert was able to kill only 169. The match was interesting throughout, only one or two birds separating the shooters until the last 25 birds, when Work seemed to lose his form and missed six, while Macalester killed 23.

SQUEEZED TO DEATH.

Wilkes Barre, March 15.—John Staney, Michael Propkoskie and John Bruden, employed in the No. 4 shaft of the Kingston Coal Company, were standing along side of a platform near the head of the plane this afternoon in conversation with each other. Cars of coal were being hoisted at the time, and not thinking of the danger ahead they were caught. The two former were instantly squeezed to death, the latter was fatally injured and cannot recover. Propkoskie was a married man and leaves a wife and family in Austria.

THUNDER AND LIGHTNING.

Clearfield, March 15.—While a blinding snow storm was passing over Clearfield to-day loud peals of thunder shook the buildings many times, bright flashes of lightning illuminated the thickly falling snow, which caused many to gaze with awe and astonishment upon the rare phenomenon.

HOME AGAIN.

Philadelphia, March 14.—When the Washington express rolled into the Broad Street station to-night a weary and dust covered crowd of democratic statesmen alighted from a private car. In their midst was the tall form of Governor Pattison, who was surrounded by Secretary of the Commonwealth Harrity, Attorney General Hensel, Adjutant General Greenland, Thos. and Savery Bradley, James M. Beck, W. R. Smith and J. Henry Cochran, of Williamsport. Along with the dust and tired looks were bags of oranges, bunches of palmetto, pyramids of pine apples, boxes of alligators and a small, big-mouthed, white-eyed colored youth who carried the pine-apples and the alligators.

The colored youth was a native of Asheville, N. C., who had fascinated the party with a song and dance while the train stopped at that resort on the way north and who decided in twenty minutes to go to Lancaster to become a Pennsylvania politician under the tutelage of Attorney Gen. Hensel.

It was stated that the trip through the south was a great success, as it was only for pleasure and much pleasure had been obtained. While away the party took in Lookout mountain, under the espionage of the mayor of Chattanooga; Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Ormond, Rockledge, Kissimee, Tampa and Asheville. There was some artistic shooting done at Kissimee, where the party was entertained for a day and a half by Hamilton Disston.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and untill the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Cheney & Co Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, —There is a great deal of truth in the thought given utterance to by one of our contemporaries, that one of the lessons of the late business distress is that it does not pay the young farmer to desert his business and crowd into the cities for the purpose of making more money. The stress of the times has shown clearly that the farmer, in the long run, has the best business to be had. If he understands it, and is half as industrious as a man must be to be a success in trade, or in mechanical lines, he is sure to make a living and lay by a little, and never comes to such distress, even in misfortune, as he must suffer in other walks of life.

—A Minister was heard to remark that a newspaper that told the truth could not be a success. The minister who at all times and under all circumstances tells the whole truth about members of his congregation, alive or dead, might not occupy the pulpit more than one Sunday, and in some cases might find it convenient to leave town. The press and the pulpit go hand in hand with a white wash brush and with pleasant words magnify little virtues into large ones. The pulpit the press and the gravestone are the saint making triumvirate.

ROBBED A POSTOFFICE SAFE.

West Chester, Pa., March 15—Thieves broke into the postoffice at Timicula, this county, last night and carried the office safe away in a wagon. The thieves drove to a wood two miles distant, and there blew the safe open and possessed themselves of the stamps and money it contained. Postmaster David Brinton this morning tracked the thieves by the marks in the road left by the wagon wheels and found his smashed safe lying on the ground where the robbers had left it. There is no clue to the thieves' identity.

NOT A SUCCESS.

The christian in politics as a leader in partisan politics and a teacher of gospel truths, as a general rule is not a success for he is seldom governed by common sense business principles. He is theoretical and seldom practical he attempts too much as he demands the entire abolition of an evil and fails, whilst he might accomplish a measure of good by regulating a wrong, and limiting its power for evil. He must adopt business methods or he will continue to be a failure.

—John Kelly was arrested in New York and upon his person was a package containing nine loaded dynamite cartridges and three dynamite bombs. The bombs were complete looking affairs and there was enough dynamite in one of them to blow down a block of houses. Kelly is held in $5,000 bail and it is likely he will rusticate in Sing Sing for a period of time with such men as John Y. McKane. Kelly could be given the job of holding the other end of the cloth while McKane plies the shears.

AT THE GAYLORD MINE.

The Discovery of the Second Body Causes Much Excitement.

Wilkesbarre, March 14.—As soon as it became known this morning that the second body had been found at the Gaylord mine the excitement became intense, and crowds af people hurried to the place. The scene was one of desolation and gloom about the mine, the day was cold and unpleasant to those who gathered about the place anxious to know the latest that was going on.

At an early hour this morning the cage was hoisted and a miner stepped off to notify the outside officials that another victim had been found. Later on the body of Michael Welch was brought to the surface in a rough box, placed into the undertaker's wagon and sent to his home in Avondale.

When discovered by the rescurers the body was in a standing posture with both arms across the forehead, indicating that he was trying to ward off some terrible blow or to shut out the awful sight and thought of the fearful crash that was to be his death stroke. When taken from his position he was recognized only by a cord that he wore about his body, his face being putrified to such an extent that identification was impossible.

The funeral of Welch took place this afternoon from St. Vincent's Roman Catholic church, the Rev Father Donohue officiating. After the ceremonies the body was removed to the Welch Hill cemetery. The deceased left a wife and six children—two girls and four boys—the oldest being 11 years. They are in destitute circumstances but far the present are being cared for by friends.

The afternoon shift of the rescuers came out of the mines to night. They believe that they are nearing other bodies, as the odor in the place where they are working is almost unbearable.

REDUCING MINING RATES.

Philipsburg, March 16.—The men at several mines in the Beech Creek region were surprised yesterday to see notices posted of a reduction in the mining rate of 5 cents a ton, to go into effect to-day. This leaves the rate per ton at 40 cents gross. It is the result of a resolution adopted at a conference in Philadelphia of the leading operators of the Beech Creek and Clearfield regions, these operators claiming that the reduction is necessary in order to compete with other regions shipping to the same market. What action the miners will take is uncertain.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

Mrs. Polly Klinger, widow of the late Jesse Klinger, who died a few years ago, and who is now about 80 years of age, was stricken with paralysis about three o'clock this morning, and at this writing is very low. The advanced age of the lady makes her recovery very doubtful.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DODDS FERRY, N. Y.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.
Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

PITTSBURGH, PA.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have written [illegible] before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,

—At last Philipsburg is to have a Board of Trade.

—President Cleveland was born on St. Patricks Day 57 years ago. It was hard on St. Patrick.

—The residence of Mrs. Hoover, on Spring street, has been beautified by a new coat of red paint.

—Dr. R. L. Dartt has put down a flagstone pavement on the south side of his house, leading from Allegheny street to the rear entrance. It is quite an improvement.

—The little son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Thomas, who was so badly burned at Philipsburg Monday morning died that same evening and was buried Wednesdap afternoon.

—All licenses applied for in Mifflin county this year, were granted by the court, and the county will have three more licensed houses than they had last year. Two new hotels were granted in Lewistown.

—The Coalport Standard is the compiler of this: A man named Spunk has just married a girl by the name of Spink. How they have twisted it up to be sure. Notice the tenses: Past, Spink; present, Spunk; future, spank.

—The firm of Robert Cole & Co., architects of this place, was one of five contestants to submit plans for a new Presbyterian church building at Jersey Shore. The trustees adopted the drawing of Wagner & Reitmyer, of Williamsport.

—The committee on teachers' permanent certificates, which was announced to meet in the stone school house on Friday, March 23, has postponed its metting until April 13, because the teachers are required to teach on the former date.

—Benjamin Housel, of this place, who has long been an invalid, has been granted a pension. The amount is not stated, but we presume it is twelve dollars per month. This will bring Mr. Housel about three hundred dollars back pay.

—Word from Lock Haven announces the death in that place Wednesday evening of Mr. Thomas Shearer, who has been ill for a long time. Mr. Shearer was born and raised in Rebersburg but moved to Lock Haven a number of years ago. He was aged about 67 years.

—The mine banks connected with the Valentine Furnace company started a force of men laying track and making preparations for an early resumption. Repairs have been going on about the furnace but nothing is definitely known as to when it will be put in blast.

—Philipsburg organized a board of trade on Wednesday evening. Mr. W. H. Denlinger has been chosen as president. Mr. Denlinger is interested with Mr. E. C. poorman in the Denlinger, Poorman & Co. addition to Tyrone. If Mr. D. does the hustling over there he did in the addition to Tyrone, Philipsburg will get a move on in great shape.

—Budd Gray, one of Tyrone's young men, is making a place for himself at the Pennsylvania State college. He is a member of the Glee and Banjo clubs which will make a tour during the Easter vacation and has just won a high rank among the junior orators. He ranks third out of six men chosen from the entire class to contest for the junior prize at next commencement.

—The Pennsylvania peach belt in the Cumberland valley is reported as not having been injured by the Winter, and an enormous crop is promised thisyear. This belt, which has been developed during the past few years and which is fast competing with the Delaware orchards, extends along the South Mountains from Dillsburg into Maryland and the growing of orchards along this belt has been remarkable.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 569 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs.

JAMES H. M'CLAIN.

Mr. James H. McClain, a former resident of this place, died at his home in Massillon, Ohio, last Friday morning. Mr. McClain was a brother-in-law of our townsman, Mr. Henry Harris, he being married to Miss Ellen Tonner, a sister of Mrs. Harris and a daughter of the late Rev. John Tonner, deceased. From the Massillon, Ohio, Independent we copy the following account of the funeral:

The funeral of the late James H. McLain, Sunday afternoon, suggested in the most impressive manner possible, the regard in which he was held, among his business and personal associates, his employes, and in the community at large. None of the organizations to which he belonged were present as such, but by their silent and undemonstrative presence swelled the great number who attended the brief services at the family residence. These consisted simply of a reading from the scriptures by the Rev. A R Chapman, of the First M. E. church, and prayer by the Rev. Edward L. Kemp, rector of St. Timothy's church, and prelate of Massillon Commandery No. 4, K. T.

The body was then borne from the house by Messrs. Jas. H. Hunt, Charles Steese, Wm. B. Humberger, James Corns, C. A. Gates and J. F. Pocock, and the procession of carriages moved slowly through McLain street, down Oak, and south to the cemetery. When the first carriage turned in at the cemetery gates, the last had barely passed under the Ft. Wayne railroad bridge.

Flowers were sent by the Masonic societies and others to which Mr. McClain belonged, the shop hands from Canton, and very many family friends. A special electric railway train brought a hundred or more people from Canton, including the directors of the J, H. McLain Co., most of the employes of the works. and many others. Governor McKinley drove over with A. C. Tonner, of Canton.

DEATH OF A GALLANT SOLDIER.

Calvin S. Buddinger, of Wrightsville, died suddenly on the 12th instant, aged 53 years. During the war he was a gallant soldier of the 45th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, a regiment mostly recruited in this county, and commanded by Colonel Welsh. He participated in the South Carolina campaign under Burnside; fought at South Mountain and Antietam, where he was severely wounded, and at Fredericksburg. In 1863 the 45th was ordered into East Tennessee and in June re-enforced Grant at Vicksburg and participated in all the battles of that campaign. In August the regiment was again ordered into East Tennessee, was at the siege of Knoxville and at the attack on Fort Sanders. The regiment rejoined the Army of the Potomac and participated in all the battles of Grant's campaign from the Wilderness to the surrender at Appomattox. Comrade Buddinger was always with his regiment when fighting was to be done and for his bravery was promoted from the ranks to a line officer. His many comrades in this county will be sorry to hear of his sudden death.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

On Wednesday evening a birthday surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lowry, on Bishop street, in honor of the twelfth anniversary of the birth of their son James S. It is needless to say everybody present had as good a time as it was possible to have. Among those present were George and Samuel Saxon, Judson and Allie Williams, Samuel Jennie and Ellen Sellers, all of Benore; and from Bellefonte Sarah Foster, Lida Moore, Annie and Nannie Koontz, Daisy Keichline, Emma Schrock, Lola and Marga Strohm, Lillie Gehrett, Laura Harrison, Joseph Fox, Arthur Miller, George Johnson, Jasper Stover, Ed. Keichline, Albert Schrock, Samuel Foster, Joseph and Wilbur Twitmire, Clarence Smith, Charlie Hunter and Charlie Cox.

MORE HOUSES WANTED.

The Centre Democrat very truthfully says:

Notwithstanding the present condition of times there are few desirable vacant properties in Bellefonte, at this time. During the past week persons desiring to locate here have been canvassing the town to find houses provided with modern conveniences. Houses that have water and steam heat in them can scarcely be found anywhere. Of course there are a number of the cheaper and poorly built properties on hand but there are few who want to move to such a place. We think our capitalists could put their surplus to a good use by building desirable homes, supplied with modern conveniences. Bellefonte needs more houses.

TWO MARRIAGES.

This was a good day for marriages in Bellefonte. The first case on the list was the marriage of Mr. C. H. Weston, of Gatesburg, and Miss Anna D. Meese, of Halfmoon township Rev. Hoshour performed the ceremony.

The second was the marriage of Mr. R. G. McClellan and Miss Ida M. Tressler, both of Tusseyville. A party of five young couple attended the ceremony of the latter. Both parties took dinner at the Garman House and went on their ways rejoicing this evening.

DEATH OF JOSEPH HALL.

A recent death at Howard was that of Mr. Joseph B. Hall, a brother of ex-county commissioner J. Newlin Hall and a brother of Mrs. Kline, wife of ex-sheriff D. Z. Kline, of this place, deceased. Mr. Hall was aged about 75 years, having been born in the spring of 1819, in Bellefonte. His death was caused by paresis, after an illness of many months. He leaves a wife and five children, all residents of Howard and vicinity. Mr. Hall was a republican in politics and a strict member of the Methodist church.

HORSE AND BUGGY STOLEN.

A horse, buggy and harness were stolen from W. L. Owens at Granville, Mifflin county, on Friday night. The thief was tracked as far as Newton Hamilton, where his buggy broke down, and he left the horse in the woods. A man answering the description of thief was seen walking across the bridge at Newton Hamilton, and was followed by Doc. Morrison who arrested him and took him before the 'Squire. While Doc was telegraphing to the owner of the horse that he had arrested the thief, the 'Squire examined the man who gave his name as W. L. Heller, of Philipsburg, and represented that he was a traveling salesman for a western liquor firm. Thinking that he was not the thief, the 'Squire let him go. The owner and Mr. Price came to Newton Hamilton and finding that the supposed thief had left town Doc. Morrison and Mr. Price came in search of him to Huntingdon, but not being there, Mr. Price went to Tyrone where he found Heller just as he was walking into the town. He arrested him and took him to Lewistown, where he had a hearing and was lodged in jail to await trial.

IT IS BEYOND CRITICISM.

The main, and it can be truly said, the only object of The Dazzler, which had production at the Park Theatre last evening, is to amuse its hearers, and that it realized this intention was evidenced by the manner in which the house laughed and applauded. The piece, which needs no introduction to local theatre-goers, is beyond criticism. The different members of the company get off a joke or two or tell a funny story, and when the audience is getting restless, they give a song or a dance or some other specialty to ease the monotony—a thing by the way, the entire company is able to do entertainingly. The company contains a number of people who are clever in their respective lines of business.—Philadelphia Ledger and Transcript.

This excellent company will exhibit in Garman's opera house next Thursday evening, March 22nd. They should be greeted with a crowded house.

BROSIUS APPOINTED.

The Lock Haven Express, on Friday, said:

Mr. John F. Brosius, of Crawford township, to-day received his appointment as Deputy Revenue Collector for the district composed of Clinton, Centre and Union counties. Mr. Brosius will have his headquarters in Lock Haven. There were several applicants for this position, and Mr. Brosius is to be congratulated on securing the appointment. He is well and favorably known, having served two terms as a County Commissioner in Clinton county.

This, then, settles definitely the aspirations of the various Centre county aspirants who have been longing for this very office.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

The coroner's jury in the case of the violent death of D. C. McCauley, who was kicked to death at Ridgway last Wednesday evening by H. C. Taylor, a prominent lumberman of that town, found that McCauley came to his death by "being thrown upon the ground and kicked to death by one H. C. Taylor." Taylor is in jail now charged with murder, but expects soon to be released on bail. Taylor was in his buggy when McCauley demanded a small sum of money which he claimed Taylor owed him, and upon Taylor's refusal to pay him, proceeded to pull him out of his buggy. Taylor then knocked him down and kicked him on the neck, dislocating his vertebra.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

—A story is going the rounds to the effect that a married lady of an adjoining county had a birthday anniversary a few days since, upon which her husband presented her with a pretty piano lamp. He was much flattered when she told him she intended to give it his name, until he ask her reason for so particuliar a proceeding. "Well," said she, "you know, dear, it has a good deal of brass about it, it is handsome to look at, requires a good deal of attention, is not remarkably brilliant, is sometime unsteady on its legs, liable to explode when only half full, flares up occasionally, is always out at bed time and is bound to smoke."

—Rev. J. C. Young, pastor of the Pleasant Gap circuit of the M. E. church, goes to conference this year under very gratifying circumstances. During the conference year there have been 125 conversions and 81 of the number converted have united with the church. Notwithstanding the year was one of financial distress, and was particularly felt in his district where there is so large a proportion of laboring people, yet all the benevolent collections have been lifted and they show an increase on the work of last year. We congratulate the minister on this excellent record.

—Next Tuesday evening a public meeting will be held at the academy at Pine Grove Mills for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the right of way can be secured for the extension of the Bellefonte Central railroad to that place. This is an important move on the part of the citizens of that town and vicinity and we trust they will bring the matter to a successful completion.

PROTHONOTARY SMITH FEASTED.

On Saturday morning last Prothonotary W. F. Smith came home to join his family with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stover in a visit to William Bower's, Mrs. Stover's parents, who live several miles east of Aaronsburg. After enjoying the hospitality of the Bower family, which is always of the most generous character, the party returned home. But what was their amazement when, upon entering Mr. Smith's residence, some twenty-four ladies and gentlemen of this town and vicinity had taken posession of the house. A large table had been arranged, and to say that it was loaded down with the most dainty viands, would be a very poor effort at description. From the feathery biped, which will never again gobble, down to the simplest article that is pleasing to the palate, everything was prepared with that skill and taste which is ever a significant characteristic of the Millheim ladies. This was what is known in the vocabulary of modern society as a "surprise party," and everybody agrees that it was a grand success. The writer regrets but one thing, and that is that, after having preyed upon the bounties of Mrs. Bower's table there was scarcely room left to think of doing justice to such a repast. The victims of this social and friendly assault join in the hope that the kind hearted neighbors, who have thus shown their good will and respect, may live many years to come and always feel gay and young, as upon this festive occasion.—Millheim Journal.

WHAT SPRING TIME REVEALS.

Spring time reveals many things that are new to the people. Not only numerous bottles and "sich" that comes light in the back yard with the touch of spring, but many new faces. You may see young people promenading whom you never saw before. For many months they have "sparked" in-doors in deep solicitude. The breath of spring brings them out, and humanity fairly swarms of a spring evening Go to the depot and find a throng of strange faces. When it was cold they had no business at the depot waiting room, but now a hundred meet at every arriving train. They had lived in town four months but you have never seen them before, and you ask: "Where do all these strangers come from?" The hum of the cycle, the cheering of boys at ball on the river's beach, the tinkle of the cow bell in the alley, the distressed and forlorn look of the husband who has to put up the summer stove, and the house wife with her "sun-down" on washing windows and arranging the "flowers that bloom in the spring," are evidence that winter is over and spring, with its promises, is here.

CHILD'S ADVICE TO A GIRL.

Geo. W. Childs once said to a girl from the West, who went to him with letters and the hope of getting sufficient influence to do something in the arable field of journalism: "Little woman, if you can do something, go ahead and do it. The world is hungry for something new. It is an omnivorous creature, but it wants a change constantly. Keep as quiet as you can. Keep out of men's way as much as you can, for it is trespassing to go on private property. Keep yourself in good health, good spirits and good clothes, and don't try to be a good fellow or one of the boys. Save half of your earnings. Go to Church. Be agreeable, but reserved, and if some honorable man offers you his name and his protection give it all up, marry him and devote your energies to home making. "The business world is no place for a woman. It is a rough place, and people have to get rough to succeed in it. I know hundreds of gentle women in business, but they always seem to me like going fishing in a dress suit and white gloves. Exquisite fabrics are not intended for rough and ready wear."

VETERANS' REUNION.

Comrades of the Two Hundred and Fifth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers. A reunion of the regiment will be held at Lewistown, Pa., on the 23d of this month. The hotel rates will be from about $1.25 to $1.50 per day. Orders for excursion tickets can be had by writing to T. H. Nicewonger, 907 Eigth avenue, Altoona, Pa; J. M. Owens, Lewistown, Pa., or Henry Whitaker, Elizabethtown, Pa. It is hoped that all the comrades who can possibly be present will be so. Blair; Centre, Lycoming, Huntingdon and Bedford county papers will please copy this.

Persons desiring orders for excursion tickets from Bellefonte can secure them by applying to Mr. F. Peebles Green, Adjutant of Gregg Post, Bellefonte, Pa.

Local Department.

—Bellefonte had several exciting incidents on Monday.

—Next Sunday will be Easter Sunday. Watch for the new dresses and gay bonnets.

—Jasper N. Brooks has been appointed store keeper at the Pleasant Gap distillery.

—Horse racing now seems to be the order of the day. Next on the list will be the bicycle.

—The crowd which went to Williamsport Tuesday night to see the Kendals was unusually small,

—Lock Haven has a girl barber who is said to wield the razor with the dexterity of one of the best tonsorial artists.

—Sunday evening was a lovely time for promenading and a large number of Bellefonters took advantage of the golden opportunity.

—Mrs. Rebecca Tutherly, of Manchester, N. H., who is 65 years old, is one of five generations of her family now living. She is said to have 151 grandchildren.

—The semi-annual meeting of the Centre—Clearfield district of the Independent Order of Good Templars will be held at Glen Richey on April 17th and 18th.

—The Tyone Herald says advices from Washington are in effect that the President has appointed W. Fisk Conrad postmaster at that place. If Fisk gets there he will make things hustle, and no mistake.

—Mr. J. M. Dale and family moved their household goods on Tuesday from their late residence on High street to the Ardell house on East Linn street where they will make their home for the next three years.

—William Lyon, the butcher, will be quite nobby when he gets moved into his new shop on Allegheny street, and also into his new place of residence on the corner of Lamb and Allegheny. But then "Billy" believes in keeping up with the times when they are progressive.

—The choir of the Presbyterian church, under the direction of Prof. W. T. Meyer, are now practicing a number of choice selections of music to render at the Easter service next Sunday, so that members of the congregation can be assured of good music next Sabbath. Everybody is invited to attend.

—Sunday was Baptist day in Milesburg and six candidates were publicly baptized into the church. The services were performed in Bald Eagle creek and were attended by a large congregation. Many Bellefonters were present, and many more would have been if they had not arrived too late.

—The Coleville band, under the leadership of Prof. Spankenberg, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday evening and rendered a number of delightful pieces on the diamond. They also gave quite a number of serenades in front of the residences of some of our prominent citizens. The band plays very well.

—The Arlington House, at Houtzdale, which was destroyed by fire about a week ago, will be rebuilt and it is expected to push the work so rapidly that it will be ready for use in three months. In the meantime Walter Butts has rented another house at which place he will entertain his boarders for the present.

—Deputy revenue collector E. R. Chambers to-day received a letter from Collector Herring stating that his successor had been appointed, to take effect on the first of April, in the person of John F. Brosius, of Crawford township, Clinton county. Mr. Chambers was also directed to give the new appointee all necessary instructions as to his duties.

—One of the choicest as well as handsomest collections of lillies ever seen in Bellefonte arrived here on Monday, consigned to Miss Katie Harris. They came all the way from the Bermuda Islands. They are large and pure white and of a most fragant and delicate perfume. They will be used in the floral decorations of the Episcopal church next Sunday.

—Prof. Clarence Davis and Mrs. Ella Redding were rearrested on Tuesday after the dismisal of the case brought by Amos Redding. The arrest was made on the information of William Garis on a warrant sworn out before Justice Oliger, of Spring township. A hearing was given them and they were bound over in $500 bail for their appearance at court. Not being able to furnish bail both parties were remanded to jail.

—On Monday one of Bellefonte's livery men had the audacity to bet twenty-five dollars that he could drive to Kohlbecker's hotel in Central City and back to Bellefonte in twenty-five minutes. He had little trouble in finding a taker and in the afternoon the drive was made with the result that the man came in just two minutes and a half too late, it taking him just twenty-seven minutes and thirty seconds to make the trip. Of course, he lost his bet and, in addition, almost killed the horse he drove.

A LONG SESSION OF COUNCIL.

Considerable Business Transacted in a Business Like Way.

Council convened Monday evening with President Miller in the chair and additional members Gerberich, Williams, Hillibish, Beaver, Brockerhoff, Bush and Garman present. Secretary Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of the previous session which were approved as read.

Cyrus Showers was present to find out if better water facilities could not be obtained on East Beaver street, where there is now only a three-quarter inch pipe for the supply of six houses.

S. M. Buck was present and asked permission to tap the water pipe running to Collins' residence, for the purpose of getting water for a house on Allegheny street; also what the water rent for a hydrant would be.

Mr. H. C. Quigley, Secretary of the Bellefonte Board of Health, was present and presented the Rules and Regulations as adopted by the Board at its meeting last Thursday evening, for the approval of the council.

Ex-Chief Burgess J. C. Meyer was present and read his report for the past year which, on motion of Mr. Reaver, was accepted and referred to the Fire and Police committee for audit.

Under the head of written communications Calvin Pifer presented a request to be allowed to use water for the sprinkling of the streets from the Centre county bank building up High street and north on Allegheny street to Parrish's drug store.

The Fire and Police committee recommended the sum of $35 per month as the pay for the borough policemen and the usual appropriation to the fire companies —$250 to the Logans and $200 to the Undines.

The Nuisance Committee reported a number of nuisances in various parts of the town which will be abated as fast as possible.

The Water Committee reported a number of hydrants removed. Also that a contract had been made with the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania for the use of the water needed at the rate of $100 per year from the first of April. Report was also made that the water committee was now experimenting with a new kind of coal. They also recommend that the wages of the Superintendent of Water works remain as they were last year.

The Street committee reported work being done on the west end of Curtin street. They also reported the condition of Lamb street from Spring to the new depot, as being very bad, and as the Water committee was responsible for the same, he requested that they be made to put the same in a good condition. President Miller instructed the Water committee to give the same their immediate attention.

As chairman of the Village Improvement Committee Mr. Beaver reported that he had been in consultation with a committee of the school board relative to assisting in the opening of East Curtin street and Wilson street, by removing all the superfluous surface clay needed to be taken away to level up that street in a passable way; the school board to use the clay in leveling up the square in the rear of the Stone school house. Mr. Beaver's report was quite lengthy and covered a wide scope. He has a project in his mind to thoroughly open up and fix Curtin, Linn, Howard and Bishop street out to Wilson street, and the latter its entire length, for the purpose of making a more thorough system of driveways inside the borough, and in this work he has already enlisted the aid of the school board, the poor overseer, and private citizens, and he feels that all could be put in the desired shape, without any further increase in taxes or appropriation for street purposes. President Miller spoke of the many boardwalks in Bellefonte which are in a very bad condition and should be given prompt attention.

The Finance committee had no report to make.

Member Williams presented a petition from a number of citizens for an incandescent electric light on St, Paul street, near the A. M. E. church.

Mr. Garman suggested to the council the name of Mr. Henry Wetzel as a suitable person for borough engineer, he agreeing to do the work for the pay of 40 cents per hour actual time served. President Miller authorized the Street Committee to employ Mr. Wetzel in and for any work they might be required to have done.

Council voted to adopt the recommendations that the wages of the several borough employees be fixed at the same price they were last year.

Regarding the request of Cyrus Showers for more water on East Beaver street, the matter was referred to the Water committee for investigation and report at the next meeting.

In regard to the request of Mr. Buck for permission to tap the Collins pipe on North Allegheny street, the matter was referred to the Water committee for investigation and report.

The Brockerhoff estate requested permission to lay an underground sewer from Pike alley across Allegheny street and down Cherry alley to connect with the sewer at the Brockerhoff stables. The privilege was granted on motion of Mr. Williams.

The request of Calvin Pifer for water for street sprinkling was referred to the Water committee for investigation and report.

The report of the Water committee on the contract made with the Central Railroad company for the use of water was approved by the council, and the borough solicitor be instructed to draw up a contract for proper enactment.

The request for an incandescent light on St. Paul street was referred to the Street committee.

The Rules and Regulations of the Board of Health, as reported to Council by Secretary H. C. Quigley, was referred to the Nuisance committee for investigation and report.

Mr. Beaver moved that the Street committee be authorized to give notice to the property owners on Curtin street to bring their sidewalks to a uniform grade. Motion passed.

There being no farther business before the council the following bills were approved and orders instructed to be drawn after which council adjourned:

Water Pay Roll	$42.13
Jenkins & Lingle	3.65
Street Pay Roll	53.61
Jenkins & Lingle	1.40
Police Pay Roll	35.00
Edward K. Rhoads	6.00
Michael Berger	4.25
John B. Linn	2.00
Isaac Mitchell	1.50

Special mention was merited by Misses Blanche Underwood and Eva Cleaver.

GEN. BEAVER'S SCHEME.

Gen. James A. Beaver, as a member of the town council and one of the Street Committee, has a scheme to improve the street system in the eastern part of the borough. His object is to put them in such a shape that they will be excellent driveways and can be traversed by persons out for pleasure drives. He has enlisted the aid of the school board, the poor overseers and of private citizens, and is confident that without any additional tax Wilson street, the extensions of Curtin, Linn, Howard and Bishop streets can all be put in firstclass condition for driving, and thus direct the trend of pleasure seekers into safer thoroughfares, away from the railroads and the dangers connected therewith. Mr. Beaver's idea is one which should receive the heartiest co-operation of all lovers of good streets and owners of driving horses. Should such a project reach a successful consummation it would afford a driveway of at least two miles inside the borough limits. By all means, let this work go on.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Last Friday evening, about 8.30 o'clock my wife, Mary Smith, left my house without cause and I have not since been able to learn her whereabouts. Fearing that some evil may have befallen her, I shall be gratified if anyone who may know will give me information in relation to her. At the time she left she had on a black dress and calico waist; dark drab shawl and winter hood. She is 38 years old, hair very gray. She had on very old shoes and rubbers over them. She was dressed in her every day clothes. Any information will be gladly received by me and the informer suitably rewarded.

JEROME SMITH, Bellefonte, Pa.

EVERY SEAT FILLED.

The Lawrence, Mass., Daily Eagle says: The theatrical season opened auspiciously at the Opera House last evening with the performance of The Dazzler by Cosgrove and Grant't comedians, and when the curtain rung up nearly every seat in the house was occupied. The Dazzler starts on its third season with every assurance of continued prosperity. The show was funny from beginning to end,

The same company will be in Garman's opera house on Thursday evening, the 22nd, and will undoubtedly delight all who may attend.

MINERS REFUSE TO WORK.

As a result of the notices posted up at many of the mines in the Clearfield region announcing a reduction of 5 cents per ton in the price of mining, a shut down has taken place at a majority of the operations, the men refusing to work on these conditions. A mass meeting, we understand will be held next Tuesday to take action on the reduction. It is to be hoped that an amicable settlement may in the meantime be effected.

—The Pennsylvania railroad company contemplates considerable improvement around their freight depot in this place, in the way of filling up, etc., to make it more conveinent for their customers.

FROM CURTIN TOWNSHIP.

The water of Marsh Creek still continues to run down hill as does the pride and feeling of Democracy and its people. How proudly they marched to the polls more than a year ago expecting by their votes to better the condition of this great country and our little municipality of Curtin. They dealt out no cider, for they had none to deal; but they trusted all to their leader and master whom they hoped would bring prosperity and plenty of apples to their homes, but instead, he has brought them nothing, depriving them even of the opportunity that they had for earning their daily bread and leaving them nothing to eat but the tin roosters they won so gaily on their hats. We wonder to whom the words were addressed "Depart from me, ye workers of iniquity." Surely no Democrat could have the moral courage to stand up and say that at the polls to-day, for it would seem that his words would choke him and the crier of the starving thousands in our once prosperous land would cause such a ringing in his ears that he would "fly to the mountains" and there, prostrated in deep contrition, implore the Just One to forgive him the iniquitious sin of ever having voted the Democratic ticket. Yes, we would say since there is a revival at Pleasant Valley, repair hence ye who have the sin burdened mind of having voted in the face of stubborn facts for democracy, and implore Him who knoweth all things for light in the future to guide you aright and cause you to vote against the malicious principles which causeth so much sorrow in our land. And be not narrow-minded in your prayers, praying only for light on national elections but let it be for light on State, county and township; pray to enlighten your minds to the fact that you are voting for a principle and that principle should be displayed as much in the affairs of our local government as any other. Then, if you strictly adhere to it, there will not be so much danger of your going astray.

Mr. A. D. Lucas will, in a few days, leave for West Virginia where he will be engaged in the manufacture of shingles for at least three years.

We are glad to learn that Albert Brickley, who has been lying critically ill in New York, where he has been employed, is now recovering.

Curtin township Republicans are getting enthusiastic over the promising prospects of the nomination of General D. H. Hastings as candidate for Governor, and nothing would please them so much as to have the opportunity of showing their appreciation of him by casting their ballots for him next fall.

Prof. C. S. Whitman, principal of the Westport schools, is at present the guest of R. C. Daley. Prof. has hosts of friends here who are always glad to see him. He speeks well of the Republican outlook at Westport and in Clinton county, and says Hastings' success is assured up that way, and what he says can be relied on.

FIRE AT KYLERTOWN.

From Mr. J. W. Mattern, who came up from Kylertown at noon, on Friday we learn that the house of Wm. Records, one mile north east of that place, was burned at an early hour this morning, the family all escaping except a young girl, who perished in the flames, Mr. Records had made a fire in the cooking shanty attached to a log dwelling and fell asleep. Soon after the shanty caught fire, which was observed by a couple of men on their way to work, who ran to the place and gave the alarm. The family, with the exception of the little girl, who somehow in the hurry was over looked, made their escape through the flames, there being only one door as a means of exit and it opened into the apartment that was on fire. The discovery that the little girl had been left in the house at a time when it was too late to have her rescued, was heart-rending to the parents and others who had gathered at the scene of the conflagration. Only a part of her charred body was afterward found. She was about 12 years of age. Everything belonging to the family was consumed.—Philipsburg Journal

HE IS A JEWEL.

The people of Bellefonte have undoubtedly secured a jewel in the high constable recently elected, Mr. Michael Berger. There never has been an official who was so persistent in the performance of his duty in hunting up dead animals and burying them at 25 and 50 cents a head, as Mr. Berger. Then, in addition, he seems to have made it a point to study up the ordinances and borough laws, and he is unusually willing to impart instruction to the council as to its relative duties on various important questions. The only trouble now seems to be that President Miller can't seem to appreciate Mr. Berger's qualifications.

REMOVE YOUR ASHES.

The Nuisance committee desires everybody in Bellefonte to as soon as possible remove all ash piles, refuse and garbage from off the streets and alleys. This is a matter that should receive prompt and careful attention, as well for the cleanliness of the town, as to preserve a good sanitary condition.

SUDDEN DEATH.

This morning Mrs. Charlotte C., wife of Mr. Edward Straub, of Benner township, was found dead in her bed, she having died during the night of dropsy of the heart. She was aged 52 years. The funeral will occur on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Ed. Everett Hoshour, officiating. Interment in the Union cemetery.

PERSONAL PENCLINGS.

Mr. William Frain, of Altoona, spent Saturday in Bellefonte.

Miss Blanche Purdue, of this place, is visiting friends in Philipsburg and vicinity.

Mr. W. A. Neidigh and family have moved from near State College to Buffalo Run.

Miss Love, of Tyrone, is a guest at the home of her brother, Hon. John G. Love, on East Linn street.

Mrs. Harry Kelley, of Snow Shoe, after spending a few days in Bellefonte returned to her home this morning.

Register George W. Rumberger is off on a business trip to Philipsburg today. He went on the early morning train.

Miss Bessie Crotty, of Axe Mann, and Misses Rosa and Mame Apt, of Bellefonte, returned this morning from a visit with friends at Reading.

We learn from the Philipsburg Ledger that the family of Mr. J. M. Bunnell, the piano dealer, will remove from Lewistown to that place in the near future.

Miss Aggie McCoy, of Potter's Mills, and Mrs. Alfred Durst, of Centre Hall, after a brief visit with friends in Tyrone, returned to their homes on Saturday.

Mr. John F. McGinness, the veteran "John of Lancaster," spent Wednesday in Bellefonte looking at the sights and gathering information for a book he is now writing.

We have thus far omitted to mention the fact that Mr. Harry Teats, an old and well known resident of Bellefonte, but now of Curwensville, is at present sojourning in town.

Col. J. L. Spangler may be an adept at juming into politics or notoriety, but the smallest school boy can beat him jumping a picket fence. At least the school boy seldom falls over.

Miss Kate Lieb arrived in Bellefonte on Thursday evening from her present home in Bethlehem and is now a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Potts Green, on East Linn street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marshall desire to extend their heartfelt thanks to the friends who so kindly assisted them in their late bereavement, in the death of Mrs. Klinger, both before and after the funeral.

Robert Garman, who is now located at Coatsville, where he is assisting his uncle in the jewelry business, is now at home on a brief visit. "Bobby" looks even handsomer than he did when he went away.

Assistant postmaster, G. W. Rees, spent Sunday at the M. E. Conference in Harrisburg. Mr. Rees is an enthusiastic Methodist and where a crowd of them are gathered together there he tries to be found also.

Deputy revenue collector John F. Brosius, of Clinton county, was an arrival in Bellefonte Tuesday evening. He came up to see E. R. Chambers, Esq., relative to the moving of the office to Lock Haven. While here he was closeted with some of the local politicians.

Miss Maize Graham departed on Tuesday for Philadelphia and New York City to lay in a full and complete line of new spring hats, bonnets and the latest styles of millinery. She will return about the first of April at which time she will have the usual spring opening.

Miss Laura K. Hafer, who will now write Dr. before her name, returned from Philadelphia Wednesday evening and will at once get down to work in the practice of the dentistry profession. She will hang out her shingle along side of her fathers and for the present be located in his office, with the purpose in view of eventually locating in the room adjoining. A lady dentist in Bellefonte will be a novelty and, we presume, every young man in Bellefonte will now need his teeth filled.

FROM THE "MAGNET."

It nothing unforseen interferes the furnace of Valentine s Centre Iron Company will resume operations on the 1st ot April. This announcement will bring joy to a great number of people in this locality. One merchant, when he was told of it, turned a double hand spring of joy and treated the informant to oysters. This will give work to nearly all the idle men now in Bellefonte and vicinity.

It seems that Bellefonte really has a matrimonial bureau. It is an association to which a marriageable person can pay 10 cents a month and for that sum will be put in communication with some one of the other sex who also wants to enter into matrimony. At least one lady member of it is soon to reap the results. The marriage, it is said, will take place next month and the bride is now preparing her trouseau. It is to be hoped that she will not be disappointed.

SPECIAL EXERCISES.

To-morrow afternoon the graduating class of the Bellefonte High School will hold special literary exercises in the room in the Brick school building. The following is the program which will be rendered:

Music, "The Fort Traveler."

THE POLICE WILL HUNT HER.

Last Friday Mary, wife of Jerome Smith, of Bellefonte, mysteriously disappeared from her home. It was in the evening about 8.30 o'clock when she went away. She left the house without expressing any intention of leaving home. She only had on an old hood and black shawl over her everyday clothes. Since then nothing has been heard of her by her husband and friends who are now in a very distressed frame of mind in regard to her, fearing that she may have met with some accident. Last night the police of Bellefonte were instructed by Burgess W. E. Gray to institute a thorough search for the missing woman. Telegrams were sent to her parents' home for information as to whether she had turned up there. If not, then search will be made in every conceivable place to try and discover her whereabouts, dead or alive. Her husband says he knows of no reason why she should have gone away voluntarily and fears that she has met with disaster of some kind. She has not been very well for some time past and may have wandered away in a fit of abstraction.

—At 2 o'clock this afternoon the hearing in the case of Clarence Davis and Mrs. Ella Redding was held before Justice of the Peace John B. Linn. On the parties appearing Amos Redding withdrew the prosecution on Mrs. Redding agreeing to go back home with him and live as usual. This done the justice dismissed the case but held the parties for the payment of the costs. District attorney Singer objected very strongly to this mode of precedure, even alleging that the witnesses had been tampered with, and charging E. R. Chambers, Esq., with unprofessional work. To this Mr. Chambers objected and it looked for a little bit as if there was going to be trouble but it finally ended without a row, although Mr. Singer declares his intention of still further pushing the case.

—The funeral of Mrs. Klinger occurred this morning from the Reformed church. Rev. Miles O. Noll officiated and was assisted by Rev. W. H. Blackburn, of the United Brethren church. The pall bearers were Messrs. C. M. Bower, William Harper, Col. William Shortlidge, Capt. A. C. Mingle, Coke Bell and A. Lukenbach. The services were very impressive.

A Regular Sell.

An Irishman in hardest luck
  Had tramped through many states,
And everywhere was badly stuck—
  Against him were the Fates.
His tattered clothes were quite a sight,
  His thin, starved body too.
For nowhere could he get a bite
  Or any work to do.

He reached a city though one day
  And tried to beg a meal,
But every person turned away
  Their anger to conceal.
He asked for work, he was refused,
  For bread, refused again.
Until he felt himself abused
  By all the city men.

While passing by a junk shop which
  A sheeny pedlar owns,
He saw the fellow had got rich
  On buying rags and bones.
Pat thought awhile, and then went in
  To interview the Jew,
And try an honest meal to win
  As beggers oft will do.

"Good morning sir," said Pat inside
  "Do you buy rags and bones?"
"Vy yes, of course" the Jew replied
  "Dots vy dis store I owns!"
"Well then," said Pat, "my luck prevails
  For once in many a day,
Be jabers! put me on the scales
  And see how much I weigh!"

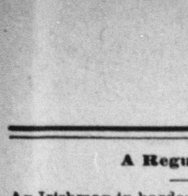
Jim Meadows' Hobby.

A CHARACTER SKETCH.



ND did I know Jim Meadows? Well, I rather guess I did. The Lord only made a few like him, and I reckon the model's broken long ago."

Cal. Swanley heaved a deep sigh, knocked the ashes from the bowl of his corncob pipe and laid it on the table near him. His two companions, fellow occupants of the "bar parlor" in the Palace Hotel, looked at Cal. interrogatively, which plainly meant that they expected him to impart further information.

It could be seen, however, that Cal. was intent upon telling a story whether they wished it or not, so his audience of two settled themselves in their cosy chairs and prepared to listen.

"Seems to me I can see Jim Meadows right now," continued Cal., after a pause, "though he has been dead and gone nigh on five years. He wasn't what you might call a handsome man, though he was quite passable in looks, but the expression on his face used to attract everybody almost at sight. It was just plain good nature, benevolence, generosity, or whatever you call it, and it was written right across his face clear as daylight. Jim was a poor man once—poor as Lazarus, but even then he used to have a reputation for doing uncommon kind acts. They say that when one of his chums, who had a large family to keep, fell sick of the fever, Jim worked overtime for two weeks and did that fellow's work so that the wife and children would not be in want. Children used to run after him and climb upon his shoulders everywhere he went, and many a lot of fruit and candy did he buy for juvenile crowds that followed him. Among the youngsters in the town he was popularly known as Santa Claus, doubtless on account of his goodness of heart.

"Well, one day came the news that Jim Meadows had grown suddenly rich. A distant relative of his had died in Australia, leaving to Jim as next of kin a vast property, said to be worth $100,000. To those who knew the man it was a foregone conclusion what would become of most of the money. Not that Jim was any kind of a fool in spending. He was not a drinking man at all, and of course had no luxurious habits.

But his great desire in life as a poor man was to relieve the wants of humanity, to succor the needy, care for the sick and cheer the unfortunate. As a rich man, therefore, it was but natural that he should put his pet schemes into practice, yet he had his own peculiar way about doing it.

Knowing his disposition, the directors of local charities were not slow in approaching him with appeals for aid to help swell their funds for the poor, but, to the surprise of all, Jim met their overtures with quiet but firm refusals.

"'How much will I subscribe, gentemen? Not a red cent,' he would say emphatically. 'Your ways of feeding the poor and mine differ. No deserving person who needs assistance need wait ten days for it if he or she comes to me. You listen to the pleadings of a starving widow and her children and tell them, in a matter of fact, business kind of way, 'We will have your case investigated as early as possible and then determine what assistance we can give you.' And in the meantime she and her children may starve to death—she may be in her coffin when you have concluded your 'investigation.' I don't believe in theoretical charity. It must be quick, spontaneous, hearty, practical, or it don't amount to a hill of beans.'

"And he wasn't going to squander any money on building or endowing churches, either. Schools he would help, but it was the real, hard working, deserving poor that Jim loved to aid, and he claimed that they wanted their stomachs filled, and their bodies clothed, in a bigger kind of a hurry than they yearned to sit in pews and fall asleep over dull sermons.

"But from the day the lawyers deposited Jim's money in the bank for him, and gave him the pretty little check book to draw whatever sums he wanted, Meadows made it a practice to go around the poorer districts of the town and inquire into the wants and condition of the people. He was like an angel wherever he went, spreading sunshine and happiness in places where he found gloom and sorrow.

"Did Jim hear of a case of sickness where the family was too poor to afford a doctor? He had one there pretty quick, and the physician was commissioned to let no expense bar the way to good diet for the invalid.

"Did he hear of a death in any house where funeral expenses could not be raised, or would be ill afforded? He assumed the responsibility himself and paid all the undertaker's bills.

"Did he hear of an honest bread-winner out of work and with a family looking to him for bread? He took care they had bread, aye, and butter too, for both butcher and grocer received orders to supply the family with such necessaries as were required.

"Did a good and respectable workman need tools before he could start a job? Jim bought them for him. And he never was known to meet a boy or girl upon the street whose shoes or clothing indicated distressful poverty, but their wants in the way of garments were promptly attended to.

"Love him! Bless your hearts, there wasn't a man in all the State more loved than Jim Meadows, and if the prayers of the widow, the orphan, the sick and unemployed have any weight in heaven, there's enough of 'em up there to offset any sins the poor fellow was ever guilty of.

"He used to take the keenest sort of delight in doing good on the quiet, and in unexpected ways. Ever hear of the way he paid off his old score against Tom Moody, the foreman down at Gaspers'? Well, it was this way. Jim and Tom were courting the same girl—the one that is Mrs. Moody now. Tom was of a jealous disposition and began to be very bitter against Jim when he found he was after his girl. So he used his mean influence down at the factory and Jim was thrown out of work without any reason. Soon after that he had his fortune left him, and just about that time Gaspers got in difficulties and they had to shut down the factory the very week after Tom had married. Moody hadn't saved any money for a rainy day, and as a consequence he and his new bride were face to face with poverty and starvation. Yes, and how d'ye think Jim Meadows got in his revenge on Tom for the mean trick he had played on him? He just rented a cosy little house, put $500 worth of furniture in it, and presented it with a year's rent receipt, to Mr. and Mrs. Moody as "a gift from an old friend." That's the sort of man Jim Meadows was.

"He never dressed stylishly or even expensively himself. The plainest kind of clothes were good enough for him. If he was ever told that his coat looked shabby he would quietly say, "Well, I can't afford a new one this month," but he would very likely buy a new suit that very day for some poor devil or another who needed clothing badly. He was frugal in his eating, but nothing was too good for any invalid in whom he took an interest.

"Jim used to go to the police court nearly every morning, not out of a morbid curiosity, but just to see what good he could do the poor wretches who often find their way there. Many a fine he has paid out of his own pocket to set a prisoner free, but he never showed any sympathy for a real criminal unless there seemed to be evidence of a desire to reform. He had a kindly word for all, but his was not mere verbal sympathy, his practical charity went hand in hand with his cheering disposition.

"One night he saved a young girl from suicide. She was one of the class that so-called honest folks turn up their noses at, but nobody was too low for Jim to lift up if he could do it. That girl was tired of her life of shame and wanted to end it in the river, and she would have succeeded if Jim had not happened by at the time and rescued her. She was brought up at the police court after leaving the hospital, but Jim secured her discharge and placed her in charge of a laundry which he had started for just such poor creatures as she. She has led a good life ever since and owns that laundry now herself, but she has never worn anything except black since Jim Meadows died, and she says she never will.

"Once he was told of a poor but proud family, who were living in a somewhat fashionable locality. They had suffered severe reverses and, although brought up in a luxurious way, were now living on almost bread alone. The head of the house was dead; the eldest son had been the sole support of his mother and three sisters since their loss of property, but for the past six weeks he also had been incapacitated for work by illness. Though desperately poor and on the verge of starvation, these people, it was known, were too dignified and proud to accept charity, so what does Jim do but take a few directories to the house and beg the three young ladies to copy the names and addresses for him at $10 a week each. He claimed that he was in a hurry for the work, but he kept them at it nearly six weeks, and it is said that when their labors were completed Jim just piled the manuscripts away in an old tool chest, where they were found years afterwards all mildewed and useless. That's the sort of man Jim Meadows was.

"How did he die? Well now, it does seem a shame that a fellow like Jim ever should die, but the fact is his big fortune dwindled away by reason of his prodigal generosity, and in eight years every cent was gone. Jim was no business man. He had been so much occupied in providing for others that he had forgotten to provide for himself. He never looked after his financial affairs, but just kept drawing money out as he needed it and giving it away right and left. So in the end of course the crash came, and Jim was as poor as ever. He went to work at his old trade, but the thought that he could no longer benefit his fellow man as he used to, preyed upon his mind. He could not bear to look upon suffering and be unable to relieve it, and so, in the course of a very few months, the worry broke down his health, and after a brief spell he died, and his last act was to will all his little personal effects to the poor cobbler who had attended on him in his final days.

"A funeral! Gosh, such a one as that was! There were more real mourners followed Jim to the grave, more tear-stained faces and sorrowing hearts in that sad procession than ever attended any funeral of king, statesman or philosopher. There wasn't a spark of selfishness in Jim's whole nature. All he thought about was helping others, and the grief-stricken crowds that stood around in that cemetery and sobbed aloud in their anguish when that coffin was lowered into the grave, had experienced his generosity themselves. The city put a monument over his head, but bah! what's a piece of cold marble amount to? His name is engraved indelibly in the hearts of thousands, and they will hardly ever tire of telling their children and grandchildren in coming years the sort of man Jim Meadows was."

Anecdotes of Actors.

WRITER says that no vocation in life is so susceptible to the influence of wit and humor as that of the actor. The stage is practically the distributor of amusement, so it is but natural that its votaries should excel in the production of entertaining stories and anecdotes. Many volumes have been published which were devoted to the bright sayings and witty repartee of famous actors, but a few hitherto unpublished anecdotes of living Thespians may prove both new and interesting.

In Nat Goodwin's early days in the profession he had the misfortune to work under a manager who was much addicted to drink, and who, in such cases, became very irritable and quarrelsome. When laboring under the influence, it was not unusual for him to discharge the whole staff, from star down to property man, but of course the company took little notice of these spasmodic ebullitions of temper, as they were pretty well used to him. One night this manager, while morosely nursing one of his periodical "jags" came across Goodwin in the green room.

"See here, Goodwin," said he, trying to steady himself, and closing one eye so as to get the right focus on the comedian. "I've a d——d good notion to discharge you on the spot!"

"No doubt," replied Nat calmly, "and perhaps you would if you were sober enough to find the spot!"

Roland Read boasts of a nasal organ which is certainly not obscure. He has been frequently twitted about his prominent feature, but never more rudely than one winter's day when an acquaintance accosted him on Broadway with, "Hallo, Reed, I met your nose on the other block and it looked awfully cold."

"Can't help it, my boy," replied the comedian without stopping, "I scratched it as far as I could reach!"

Walter Q. Seabrooke was formerly a bank clerk in Mt. Vernon, N. Y. The first position he secured on the stage was at a very lenient salary and he sometimes found it difficult to make ends meet. A Wall Street broker owed him a little money, and one day Seabrooke went to see him with the intention of collecting. While patiently waiting in an ante-room for an interview, another gentleman, evidently a stranger, came in in somewhat of a hurry and asked, "Excuse me, are you the broker?" "No," replied Seabrooke doggedly, "but I'm the fellow that is broke!"

When Henry E. Dixey was playing at the Gaiety Theatre in London he gave a very successful and artistic impersonation of Henry Irving, the popular English tragedian. A certain section of the Cockney play-goers resented Dixey's burlesque, clever as it was. To make fun of Henry Irving seemed almost sacrilegious. Said one bitter critic to Dixey, sarcastically, "But of course you are bound to introduce that part, as your caricature of Irving is the only 'meat' you have in the play." "Yes, that's so," replied Adonis sadly, "and I'm bound to make game of him, you see!"

De Wolf Hopper, of "Wang" and "Panjandum" fame, as those who have seen him will remember, possesses a pair of wonderfully long legs, which he uses to good purpose in his grotesque and amusing dances. On one occasion the comedian had to travel from the depot to his hotel in the regular stage, which was nearly crowded. The man opposite to Hopper complained loudly about the latter's knees and rather rudely exclaimed, "Your darned legs fill the whole car." "That's nothing," replied Hopper cheerfully, "they frequently fill the whole house!"

Reciprocity.

We were friends of long years standing,
  Jimmy Jones and I, perforce,
With a friendship still expanding
  By continued intercourse.
Till we met a lovely creature
  Like an angel from above,
Beautiful in every feature—
  With her we both fell in love.

Jimmy won her—won her fairly,
  Though I strove to gain her hand
With such loving words as rarely
  I was able to command.
Jimmy married her, and placed her
  In a mansion neat and trim,
When her bridal costume graced her—
  Heavens how I envied Jim!

Years have passed, and I'm still single,
  Fancy free, enjoying life,
With my friends I daily mingle
  All unmoved by worldly strife.
Jimmy's grown quite thin and weary,
  Quite a saddened man to see—
Married life to him is dreary—
  Mercy, how he envies me!

Some Notes on Etiquette.

Don't walk in a stooping posture in public places. It shows bad form.

Never pass bad money in a street car. It is not fare to the conductor.

Don't pick your teeth before company. Go pick them by yourself and pick the best you can get for the money.

It is bad taste to eat peas with a knife, but the peas will taste just as good.

Do not try to kiss strange ladies on the street or you might get a return smack.

Don't write letters to any girl but your own. Courting is all right, but not breach-of-promise courting.

Do not speak insolently to a bigger man than yourself or the result may be striking.

Never eat or drink more than you can carry. You are liable to give yourself a-weigh.

Do not sit opposite a lady in a public conveyance. She is likely to look 'cross at you.

It is not correct to swear before ladies. If they want to swear first, let them do it.

Don't try to have the last word, especially with your wife. That is her prerogative.

Never strike a man when he is down. When he gets up again he might knock the stuffing out of you.

Don't say "No, thank you," when a fellow offers you a 25-cent cigar. It is rude, besides being untruthful. C. S.

Both Alike.

JERSEY.—What became of the rascal who bit a piece out of Chumley's arm?

MEADOWS.—He was bound over to keep the peace.

And what did they do to Chumley's arm?

That was bound over to keep the piece too!

Not Good Enough.

"Keep your own counsel;" the words are a warning
  To all who are apt to be free with the tongue,
Do not such wise admonition be scorning—
  Ponder it deeply, life's duties among.

"Keep your own counsel;" the motto is chiefly
  Meant for the people who chatter too loud,
A bit of advice that is given quite briefly
  To speak not too much of yourself in a crowd.

"Keep your own counsel;" 'tis wiser and better
  Not to talk much of your private affairs,
Gossip is certain to be the begetter
  Of doubts and misgivings, of troubles and cares.

"Keep your own counsel;"—that is, if you're able,
  Mine charges very extravagant fees,
And I doubt if he'd satisfied feel at my table,
  Or whether my bank-book his wants could appease.

JOHN H. TRUE.

What She Says When Kissed.

Boston girl—Mr. Bunkerhill, your conduct shocks me beyond utterance.

New York girl—Thanks awfully, don't you know.

Providence girl—Oh, mamma!

Philadelphia girl—Are you sure nobody saw us?

Baltimore girl—Dear George!

Washington Girl—Well, I suppose I'll have to pardon you.

Pittsburg girl—Oh Harry!

Cincinnati girl—What bad form!

Indianapolis girl—Ah, there!

Chicago girl—More! More!

Detroit girl—Well, I declare!

Louisville girl—Yum, yum!

St. Louis girl—How shocking!

Nashville girl—Oo! Oo!

Atlanta girl—Golly!

New Orleans girl—Oh, my!

Kan. City girl—Breakaway, there!

Denver girl—Gosh!

San Francisco girl—Rats!

Texas girl—Whoop la!

Every girl—Oh, don't!

Bad Thing to Walk On.

JOE.—Talk about fasting! Why Jilkins walked 27 miles the other day on an empty stomach!

JIM.—Why didn't he use his feet instead of his stomach?

Sized Her Up.

"Do you think I am a nice girl?" asked Edith of her lover, as she leaned her 160 pounds on him while they sat in the armchair.

"Nice? Bless you, dear, I think you are immense!" replied the youth fervently.

Smiling Room Needed.

The fellow who laughs in his sleeve
  Should have, we must presume,
If we the statement would believe,
  A lot of "elbow room."

It is Given Him.

The judge may be in greatest haste,
  The jury be quite hurried,
The counsel have no time to waste
  And the witnesses be flurried,
The ushers and spectators, too,
  May think delay a crime,
But the convict one thing has to do
  And that is, "take his time."

A Pressing Engagement.

MAUD—Just look at Arthur kissing and hugging his cousin Julia!

MAMIE—Yes, I knew they were unfriendly.

"Unfriendly? What do you mean?"

"Case of 'strained relations', isn't it?"

A Unique Firm.

JACKSON—I am dealing exclusively at Neverblow's now. It is the most reliable house in the country to-day.

THOMPSON—How do you make that appear?

"They don't claim to have got a prize medal at the World's Fair."

In the Green Room.

LEADING GENT—The stage manager has cast that new fellow for Hamlet.

LOW COMEDIAN—What on earth for?

"He said he was hungry for bread, so they gave him a heavy role."

DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Facts About the Heart

Surprising as it may seem, diseases of two of the most vital portions of the human body have received but little attention from medical writers and investigators. They are those of the heart and nervous system. The former is the hardest worked organ of the body, whose duty it is to keep every part of the human frame constantly supplied with the vital fluid called the blood, and the moment this important organ ceases to beat death ensues, while in the nervous system reside not only the mind but the seat of life, and upon its condition depend the health and activity of the whole or a part ef the body. So delicate is the nervous system and so intimately is it connected with the heart, that the prick of a needle, in the upper portion of the spinal cord, where the roots of the nerve which controls the action of the heart are located, will cause instant death.

Weaknesses and diseases of this organ are therefore exceedingly important, as well as common. High authorities state that one person in four has a defective heart, while those of a whole family are often imperfect, and what is more surprising is that two-thirds of the persons thus affected are not aware of the fact, but in their ignorance, attribute the symptoms of a diseased heart, such as shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in the chest, etc., to other causes. And what is more strange still, physicians commonly make the same mistake. In the first stages of heart disease they almost universally fall into this fatal error, because too little is taught concerning this all important organ in our medical colleges. The symptoms of heart disease are given below, and should be carefully read by everyone.

Scarcely a daily paper can be found that does not contain a notice of the sudden death, from heart disease, of some prominent person who was stricken down without warning while apparently in the best of health and bodily vigor. But this condition was only apparent; premonitory symptoms had long existed but were not recognized, or were attributed to some other affection, as were those of General Sheridan in his first attack, when physicians treated him for derangement of the stomach, but which subsequently proved to be organic disease of the heart. Few physicians are aware of the fact that heart disease is a frequent cause of functional and organic disorders of the stomach, lungs and kidneys. Few persons die of chronic disease af the heart whose stomachs, if examined, would not be found to be affected. The frequent and fatal error is in mistaking the effect for the cause.

The heart is a hollow muscle situated between the lungs, a little to the left of the centre of the chest. In the adult it is about five inches long, three and a half wide and two and a half thick. The average weight in man is three-fourths of a pound, while in woman it is two-thirds. It is divided into halves, the right and the left. Each side is sub-divided into two cavities.

The right side of the heart receives the dark blood from the veins of the body, and forces it into the lungs to become purified by coming in contact with the air. While in the lungs the blood throws off carbonic acid gas and absorbs oxygen. This process changes the dark red blood to a bright red. It then returns to the heart, entering the left side; from thence it is forced through the arteries to all parts of the body. The heart contains four sets of valves. Two of these separate the upper and lower cavities of each side. These, like the valve, or sucker in a pump, perform an important duty.

From this necessarily brief description it will be seen that this important organ is quite a complicated machine, and like all other complicated apparatus may readily get out of order, which, experience shows, it often does. Yes, a great deal oftener than people usually imagine. A little investigation will convince any one that there is ample reason why it should. when it is remembered that the heart is but a hollow muscle, and by far the most wonderful and important in the body, and that it works incessantly from the beginning to the end of life. Day and night it labors without rest, performing such an enormous amount of work as to be almost beyond belief. Physiologists inform us that with each pulsation, or contraction, of the heart, it exerts 50 pounds of force, which amounts to 3,600 a minute, 216,000 an hour, and the inconceivable number of 5,184,000 in a single day! Now, it is necessary that all this vast amount of labor should be done, and well done, every day. If not, the health will surely suffer in consequence of the least failure on the part of the heart to perform its duties.

When it is remembered that the lungs are often weak, as are the eyes, stomach, liver, kidneys, and in fact every organ, is it at all surprising that such a hard worked organ as this one should also become weak or diseased? Again, is it astonishing that when injured by overwork, when exhausted by the use of coffee, tobacco and other heart stimulants, or by tight clothing, which interferes with its expansion, rendering its labors more difficult, or by many other causes that might be given, would space permit, that the heart becomes weak or diseased? Nor is it strange that, when thus weakened and exhausted it should suddenly give out in consequence of any undue mental or physical strain, and the possessor drop dead. This can perhaps be intelligently explained by comparing it with the eye.

Contrary to the general supposition, heart disease is as readily benefitted by judicious treatment as disease of any other organ. When people learn to recognize the symptoms of this dread destroyer, they will then readily discover that there are as many defective hearts as there are eyes, lungs, stomachs, kidneys and wombs. It therefore behooves everybody to carefully investigate this interesting and important subject.

There are two classes of heart disease: First, the nervous or functional. Second, the organic, those in which the form or substance of the heart is changed. These two classes are not, as the majority of physicians suppose, distinctly separated from each other. The nervous class is, according to Dr. Miles' extensive experience in treating heart disease, often only the first stage of the organic class. Or, at least, nervous heart troubles, are so frequently followed, in the course of time, by the worst and most fatal forms of disease as to show that nervous affections strongly predispose to form the first stage of the disease. Dr. Miles has kept for years careful record of the cases treated by him. It includes inherited tendencies and the very first symptoms of weakness of the heart observed by the patients. Of thousands of cases thus recorded by the Doctor, most of the worst ones began with the nervous symptoms, which physicians decided were merely due to the stomach or liver.

All who experience any of the following symptoms should promptly secure relief.

Shortness of Breath, Fluttering or Palpitation, Pains in Left Breast, Side, Shoulder or Arm, Neuralgia or Intermittent Pains, Oppressed Feeling in Chest, Choking Sensation in Throat, Weak or Hungry Spells, Dreaming or Nightmare, Smothering Spells, Difficult or Asthmatic Breathing, Swelling of the Feet or Ankles, etc., etc.

HEART DISEASE

is incurable according to most doctors, but recent discoveries have proved that the contrary is true. In medical knowledge there has been rapid progress, the acme of success was reached in the discovery of which not only relieves heart troubles of every kind promptly, but in almost every case effects a permanent cure. Letters are being daily received testifying to the marvelous cures that it has made in cases where the sufferers had been given up to die. No matter how bad or chronic the case may be, "where there is Dr. Miles' Heart Cure there is hope." DR. MILES'

DR. MILES' NEW HEART CURE,

RESTORATIVE NERVINE

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR NERVOUS DISEASES ADMITTED TO THE WORLD'S FAIR

It is well to bear in mind that Dr. Miles was the first to place before the public a scientific remedy for the treatment of nervous diseases—a remedy that was the result of years of careful study and patient investigation. The remarkable success of the Restorative Nervine has attracted much attention, and as a consequence to-day Dr. Miles has many imitators, who advertise remedies to cure nervous diseases. A careful investigation of the advertisements of these imitators will show that they are attempting to sell their medicines by means of a great flourish of trumpets rather than upon their merits as scientific and reliable remedies. "Be ye not deceived."

The following list of affections will give those persons who have paid little attention to the subject an idea of the number and variety of nervous diseases, for which Dr. Miles' great Restorative Nervine, a brain and nerve food as well as medicine, is a new and remarkable remedy. As a very general rule nervons troubles are not well understood. Most people imagine that to have a nervous disorder one must be nervous-shaky. This is a great error. A large proportion of people afflicted with this class of diseases are not at all nervous. Nervous diseases include all affections of the brain spinal cord or nerves. Thus all head troubles, such as fits, headache, dizziness, dullness, pressure, the blues, mania, melancholy and insanity are nervous disorders, no matter how caused; pain or congestion in the spinal cord, which constitutes most backaches; tenderness of back, etc., are spinal or nervous diseases; Neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, Cramps, etc.,are nervous troubles. So, too, is a large class of disorders which arise from a weakness of the nerves of an organ or part, as weak lungs, heart, stomach, kidneys, bladder, eyes, etc.

Apoplexy.— Dr. Wright says; "In advancing life there is associated with headache, dizziness, dullness, etc., a great danger of a far more serious disease, namely, apoplexy, and it is fortunate if it affords you timely warning before the blood vessels give way and the effusion of blood takes place."

Backache—Is usually caused by an irritable or congested state of the spinal cord. It is of the same nature as headache, differing only in location. Dr. Miles has met with many cases in his private practice in which headache would extend to the back, while in many others the pain would entirely leave the head and go to the back. Not a few people have a weak back for several days after headache.

Bilious Attacks.—Biliousness is of two kinds, one being caused by malarial germs in the system,which disturb the stomach and liver; the other form is purely nervous, and is due, like sick headache, to an irritable condition of the brain and upper portion of the spinal cord which derange the nerves going from the upper part of the cord to these organs. See Sick Headache. If the Restorative Nervine is taken in three teaspoonful doses at the very beginning of the attack, before the stomach is much disturbed. the attack will almost always be prevented.

Blues, Melancholy.—These are not imaginary complaints, as some uncharitable and not well-posted people believe. They are as distinct diseases as headache or neuralgia, with which they are often associated. They are the result of an irritable and exhausted condition of the brain.

Nervous Prostration-Nervousness,Nervous Exhaustion.—Nervousness is really a nervelessness, a weakness. It is the same as nervous prostration, only of a less degree. It is often caused by such forms of nervous irritations as headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, care, anxiety, weakness of the heart, stomach, etc.

Cramps—Are always caused by an irritation of the nerves. They are local spasms. The nervous system should be treated. Use the Restorative Nervine with confidence. It has performed many wonderful cures.

Delirium Tremens,—Drunkenness, Dipsomania. Alcoholic beverages act powerfully upon the brain and nervous system. Many persons inherit a love of drink, which may be so strong as to constitute a form of mania. Delirium tremens is an acute form of insanity caused by the excessive use of alcoholics. Neuralgic pains in the bowels, limbs, etc., frequently attend the habitual use of liquors. The liver commonly becomes diseased and the whole nervous system impaired.

Dizziness.—Dullness, Vertigo, Heaviness, Pressure in the head and many other disagreeable brain symptoms, wear out the brain and nerves. Causes and treatment the same as for headache.

Fits.—There are two varieties of this disorder, the first or severe form is characterized by convulsions and complete loss of consciousness, The attack usually begins with a cry. The patient falls insensible, the face becomes pale, the head is drawn backward or sidewise, the mouth froths; the teeth are ground together, the tongue is often bitten. The convulsion lasts from two to five minutes, when it gradually subsides and consciousness returns, the patient falls into a deep sleep, from which he awakes with a feeling of exhaustion and confusion of the mind. In the second or lighter form, known as epileptic vertigo or petitmal, the person suddenly stops; then goes on as usual.

Headache.—Sick, Nervous or Bilious, Dizziness, Dullness, Pressure, Etc. That repeated or prolonged attacks of these disorders of the brain predispose it to many forms of disease can be proven by quotations from a large number of eminent medical writers. The poor memory, excessive irritability and nervousness which so frequently result from repeated attacks of headache, indicate in an unmistakable manner that the nutrition of the brain, and consequently its power of resisting disease, is impaired. In almost every case of apoplexy, paralysis, insanity, epileptic convulsions, sunstroke, inflammation of the brain, etc., there has previously been much headache.

It is well known to oculists that persons having weak eyes, which are always more or less congested, are much more liable to have inflammation of these organs than those who have strong ones. In like manner it can readily be seen that persons subject to headache are much more liable to disease of the brain, as it is an easy matter for the congestion, which accompanies all headaches, to be fanned into inflammation.

Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Bilious Attacks, Sick Giddiness. We speak of sick headache more at length, than any other form of this affection, as it is a typical nervous disorder, and the one with which the majority of people are most familiar. Not only are the masses in almost entire ignorance as to its true nature, but also physicians. It is commonly supposed that sick headache is caused by some derangement of the stomach or liver. This theory is unscientific and not sustained by facts. Everybody knows that injuries and diseases of the brain often produce vomiting; that the mental impression resulting from the sight of a disgusting object will cause sickness of the stomach in many persons. Dr. Miles has demonstrated that sick headache is also due to a disturbance of the brain. Out of 632 cases of this order, of which he has kept careful record during the last few years, every patient stated that the first symptoms of an attack were always felt in the head, and in some cases hours elapsed before the stomach became deranged. Sick headache after a few years usually changes into the nervous form.

Hot Flashes—Rush of Blood to the Head, Nervous Chills, Numbness, Tenderness of the Scalp, Irritability of Temper, Poor Memory. These are symptoms frequently met with in persons of a weak nervous system; they are due to nervous irritability or exhaustion. For them the Restorative Nervine is a good remedy.

Hysteria.—Excessive Nervousness. There are many more hysterical persons than is usually supposed. There are all degrees of it, from impulsiveness to convulsions. Hysterical people act in haste to repent at leisure. They are easily elated or depressed, owing to a defect in the nerve centers. Some will cry one moment and laugh the next. Their feelings are often stronger than their will. Hysteria is, in reality, like many other weak diseases—not a disease itself, but the effect of one or more derangements of the nervous system.

Insanity—Mania, Melancholy. In extreme cases these maladies can best be treated by some specialist, or in an institution for that purpose, where special treatment can be given. In mild cases, or where the services of an expert cannot be had, few remedies will act better than the Nervine. It should be taken in large doses, that sleep and quiet may be produced.

Monthly Pains,—And Too Frequent or Profuse Menses.—These are always due to an irritable state of the uterine nerves. The Restorative Nervine seldom fails to cure them.

Nervous Dyspepsia.—At least five-sixths of the cases of dyspepsia arise, not from an inflamed stomach, but from a weakened, debilitated, overworked condition of the nerves which control the action of this organ. The brain has a remarkable influence over the nerves of the stomach. Care, anxiety, headache, dizziness-etc., greatly weaken these nerves. Thus bad news destroys the appetite. Merchants during panics are noted for being a class of dyspeptics. No people in the world use their brains so excessively as Americans, and none are so subject to this complaint. The Restorative Nervine soon soothes the brain, strengthens the nerves and cures the dyspepsia or indigestion.

Opium and Morphine Habits are affections of the nervous system. These drugs, like alcoholics, act in small quantities as stimulants to the brain and nerves. After being taken for a time the effect upon the nervous system is such that it becomes a habit that is very difficult to break. But by the aid of the soothing qualities of the Restorative Nervine anyone possessing a little resolution can break off this disagreeable, expensive and soul-destroying habit.

Palpitation or Fluttering of the Heart is always an indication of a weak heart, and is due to weakness of the cardiac nerves. It is not the harmless affection usually regarded by the physicians.

Rheumatism was formerly believed to originate in the blood,but is now known to be a nervous disease, like neuralgia, headache, etc. This explains why it may go from one part of the body to another so readily, like neuralgia. Were it a blood trouble every joint would be affected at the same time. By soothing and strengthening the nervous system, Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, when taken as directed, is a remarkable remedy for this obstinate and painful disorder.

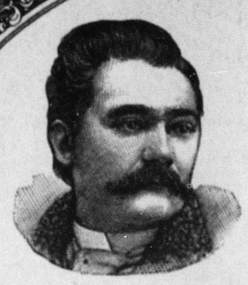
Sleeplessness is due to an irritation or congested condition of the brain, the same as headache. It soon causes nervous prostration and usually precedes insanity.

Spasms, Convulsions, Etc.—No remedy has ever been discovered that cures a larger proportion of cases of this frightful disease than the Restorative Nervine. If a child or adult shows any signs of going into spasms a dose or two will prevent it. If necessary the dose may be repeated often,

Spinal Irritation.—An irritable or congested condition of the spinal cord commonly causes tenderness of the spine, crawling, creeping and burning sensations and backache. The Restorative Nervine is a reliable medicine for them.

For all these diseases Dr. Miles' Nervine is the best remedy. It is obtainable at any drug store at $1 per bottle, or will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

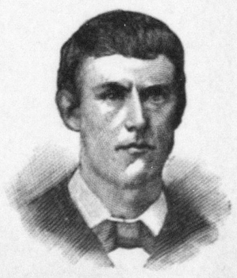
Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will give relief. Should it not do so, return it to your druggist and obtain your money. This offer applies to those who have never used this medicine and to the first bottle only.



Preston, Idaho, Dec. 26, '93.
Gentlemen:—I have taken twelve bottles of your Nervine and it has done me much good. I can do now in a day what used to take me a week. I am a music teacher and used to suffer from brain fatigue after protracted work, but now that has entirely left me, and instead of sleepless nights I can sleep soundly for eight or ten hours. For this great relief I give the sole credit to Dr. Miles' Nervine.
Yours truly, PROF. L. D. EDWARDS.

Mrs. Henry Zorn, of 106 Rosette St., New Haven, Ct., writes:—
"I feel it my duty to tell what your Nervine has done for me. I had suffered nearly 3 years with my head. First I had severe headaches and during the last year dizziness, pressure and throbbing in the brain. I have taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and my head is nearly well.

"Last February I felt very ill. Consulting our home physicians, they pronounced it womb trouble of long standing. The doctor said I must go to the hospital and have an operation performed—it was all that would help me. They performed the operation, but I was no better mentally when I returned home. One morning a friend told me of your remedies. I had no faith, but thought I would try them. My husband got me a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine, and that night I slept well and commenced to get better right along." MRS. T. C. SALT, Osseo, Wis.

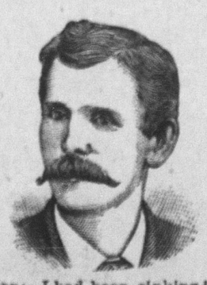


Dr. Miles Medical Co.:
My heart was so deranged that at times my pulse would get so very weak that it was very difficult to keep up circulation. I could not sleep well. Was subject to distressing pains in back of head. My physician treated me for sympathetic heart trouble, doing me no good whatever. In fact he plainly told me he could not cure me. I have used 3 bottles of Nervine and am thankful to say I have been relieved of all my bad symptoms.
Fargo, Ind. ARTHUR CRITCHFIELD.

Specht, Ohio, Sept. 18, '93.
Gentlemen:—I have waited to see if my old trouble would return, before writing you concerning your medicine. I have taken 1½ bottles of Nervine and think the other ½ bottle will cure me entirely. My arms, that were once so painful, are now quite well. I would not have them the way they were for any money. I recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted as I was, for I am greatly relieved. You can publish this if you wish.
Yours truly, MRS. M. J. TOPE.

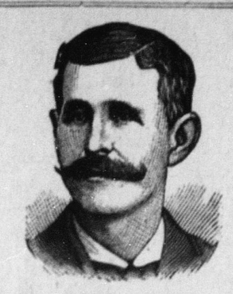
Gentlemen:—You know more about the horrible distressed feeling of a nervous person than my pen can describe, but I desire to say that about four weeks ago I could not walk across the floor, I was so weak. My brother got me a bottle of your Nervine and after taking a few doses I felt better. When the bottle was all used I was able to be at my work again. Yours truly,
A. E. CRAWFORD.
Anderson, Ind., Aug. 8 1893.

Gentlemen:—For 8 years I suffered from nervous prostration, sleeplessness, nervous debility, headache, in fact, life was miserable. One bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine cured me. It is a wonderful remedy.Mrs.A.M.Hanna.
Buffalo N. Y.



Gentlemen:—I had been sinking in health for some time and was not able to work but a few hours daily. Accidentally I heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine and bought a bottle. Before I had taken half of it I could work a full day and since I have regained my former health my friends have expressed much astonishment. They told me they thought I would be dead before this. Perhaps I might be had I not used your Nervine. You are at liberty to use this if you wish.
Greentown, Ind. H. C. APPLEGATE.

Mrs. J. Gardner, of Vistula, Ind., wrote us 6 years ago:—For eight years I was subject to spasms. Some days I would have from forty to fifty and would remain unconscious for hours and my joints would become stiff. I was long subject to severe headaches, dizziness, back ache and palpitation of the heart, and was unfit for work. After taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine a while I was entirely cured. The same lady writes from Goshen, Ind., June 3, '93:—I have not had a spasm since being cured five years ago.



Gentlemen:—I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. In addition I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis. I procured a bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return.
LaRue, Ohio. JAMES KANE.

Last year extreme nervousness manifested itself in my condition. I kept growing worse from day to day until I lost my speech and all control of myself. I knew what was going on about me, but was helpless. I began to recover my speech and power to walk, owing entirely to the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and after using this wonderful remedy several months I was perfectly well, greatly to the astonishment of those who knew of my case.
MISS GENA HULL, Waukesha, Wis.

Ringwood, Ill., Oct. 17 1893.
Gentlemen:—I have been taking your Restorative Nervine for the past three months and I cannot say enough by way of praise. I am satisfied that it has saved my life, for I had almost given up hope of ever being well again. I was a chronic sufferer from nervousness, and could not sleep at nights. I was also troubled with nervous headache an d had tried doctors in vain, until I tried your Nervine. Wishing you every success.
Yours truly, MRS. M. WOOD.

I had been afflicted with epilepsy nineteen years in very severe form. An acquaintance, who had used your Nervine with excellent results, recommended it to me, and I purchased a bottle, the only one I have used so far. Its effect has been wonderful, as, since beginning its use, I have had but two spells. I shall continue the Nervine until completely cured. My general health is now excellent, and I sleep well. If my statement can do humanity any good I am pleased to give it.
WILLIAM HEARKLESS.
Kennard, Ind., Feb. 15, 1893.

Gentlemen:—Your Restorative Nervine has worked wonders for our daughter Blanche, now 15 years of age. She had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the use of her right arm. She was in such a condition we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive that but for your invaluable remedy she would have had that affliction. She took three bottles of Nervine and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has brought her.
MRS. R. BULLOCK, Brighton, N. Y.

Gentlemen:— I cannot give you and your medicines praise enough, they have done me so much good. The doctors here are surprised that I have been at work all spring, for they thought I would never be able to work again. Your curing me has given you a great name here. I was troubled for many years with a severe affection of the heart and was unable to get relief in any way, until I began to use Dr. Miles' Nervine. This remedy has restored me to my former good health and I therefore cheerfully recommend it.
DANIEL WOOD.
South Muscatine, Iowa.

Greenwood, N. C., Oct. 1 1892.
Dr. Miles Medical Co.:
Gentlemen:—My condition was such that I could not rest nor sleep, day or night. My terrible sufferings were caused by a nervous disease. In all I have taken six bottles of your Nervine. I took it as directed and now I can eat and sleep as good as ever. I cheerfully testify that your medicines are safe and effectual. Yours truly, MRS. I. WICKER.

Gentlemen:—As I have been greatly benefitted by the use of your Nervine, I send you this testimonial, which you are at liberty to use where and when you please. I was troubled with severe headache, indigestion, constipation and general debility, with pains in left side, between shoulders, and sore spot on stomach for the last 22 years. I have tried some of our best physicians during that time, but never received any but temporary relief. Five years ago I took treatment for three months from Dr. Miles himself, and found great relief. My wife was also ailing for over a year, but a few doses of your Nervine soon cured her.

MR. & MRS. D. CRAIG.
Imlay City, Mich.

Fairbanks, Maine, Oct. 20, 1893,
Gentlemen:—I tried the first bottle of your medicine about a year ago, and have waited to see the results before writing you. I honestly think it has saved my life. I had a pain around the heart and in my shoulders, side and arms. When I commenced taking the medicine I could do no work, but now I work every day. I had employed two of the best doctors in the country and they did me no good, but your medicine certainly did.
Yours truly, E. S. BRAGG.

Pate, Ohio Co., Ind., Oct. 8, '93.
The Dr. Miles Medical Co.:
Gentlemen:—I will have to say a good word for your Nervine. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia for over eight years, and tried a good many doctors and different medicines in hope of being cured, but I was unsuccessful until I tried your remedy. I used three bottles of Nervine and now feel as well as I ever did. Have gained twelve pounds since I began using it. I remain
Yours respectfully, J. R. CONLEY.
